EUROPE AGAIN HEARS PEACE RUMORS

CHICAGO VOTE CAUSES STIR IN CAPITAL

Wilson Urged to Take the Stump to Check Gains of Republicans.

FEAR UNION OF RIVALS.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—Accounts of the landslide for Thompson in the Chicago mayoralty election and of the defeat of Democratic by Republican candidates in scores of other cities proved the most disheartening political news to the Wilson administration since the congressional and state elections last fall.

Fears that the revolt against Democratic policies disclosed by the conspicuous Republican victories last November is spreading and apprehension that the result of the municipal elections yesterday portends disaster in the presidential and congressional campaign next year are entertained by Democratic leaders here to a degree they dislike to admit.

Urge Wilson to Campaign.

The first tangible result of the disclosure of political conditions by the Chicago, St. Louis, and other municipal elections was the presentation of an appeal to the president by several of his advisers to take the stump this summer in defense of his administration. He was urged to visit the San Francisco exposition in July and to make as many speeches as possible going and returning.

The political steering committee, which advised this course, fears that unless heroic measures are adopted at once to stem the tide of reaction in favor of the Republicans, it may be too late to recover the lost ground next year.

The president took the question under advisement. At the White House it was stated that some time ago Mr. Wilson promised to visit the Panama exposition during the summer if public business should permit his absence from the capital.

Wilson Refuses Comment.

President Wilson received the returns from the Chicago election last night and examined with considerable care today the figures and the explanations of the Thompson victory emanating from various sources. It was learned that the president was visibly disappointed by the defeat of Sweitzer, but he declined to comment upon the Chicago or other municipal elections.

Private Secretary Tumulty did not conceal his disappointment, but he professed to find in the defeat of Sweitzer no indication of the attitude of the voters toward the national administration or the Democratic party as a whole.

"The issues in the Chicago election were clearly entirely local," Mr. Tumulty said. "That was made conclusively evident by the first public statement issued by the newly elected mayor, Mr. Thompson. There was no more national political significance in the election than there was in the choice of a mayor in Hoboken last week, when a Democrat was elected.

Glad Sullivan Was Beaten.

Apparently the only Democrats hereabouts who look with equanimity, if not approval, upon the result in Chicago are those who regard Roger Sullivan as the embodiment of political unregeneracy, and believe that the defeat of his candidate, Mr. Sweitzer, will further the cause

Former Banker Gives Up Riches to Die in Honor

GOT $1,800 A YEAR

Wiley O. Cox died yesterday at the Harmonia hotel at 3000 Indiana avenue, a commercial hero.

He might have lived in luxury if his creed of business honor had not been so strict. If he had taken advantage of the protection offered to bankrupts by the law and had failed to pay in full he probably would have survived the illness which caused his death. He would have been able to demand the best care and medical attention.

Leaves Only Week's Salary.

As it was, he died with no friend or relative near, in an inexpensive room in an outlying hotel. Instead of leaving to his heirs a fortune, which he might have kept, he left them a week's pay of his $1,800 a year salary.

Mr. Cox was president of the Kansas City State bank in 1906, when it went into voluntary liquidation through the failure of a bank in Clinton, Mo. Every cent that he possessed he turned over to the depositors, but nevertheless they were losers. At the age of 58 years he changed from a rich man to a penniless man.

Later he received $90,000 from the government through the sale of Indian lands. He insisted the last dollar of this be used to preserve his business integrity, although it was asserted that the bank's creditors had no legal right to the money. Through Mr. Cox's action every depositor was paid in full.

Examiner for Walsh Commission.

At the time of his death Mr. Cox was an examiner for the United States industrial commission and had been in Chicago for several months. He caught cold some time ago and was in bed for a week before his death. His son is expected to arrive today to take the body back to Kansas City.

Mr. Cox was born in Mississippi in 1848 and went to Missouri at the age of 20 years. He engaged in the banking business first in Springfield, Mo., and later in Kansas City. In 1896 he owned the Kansas City Times.

EXPERTS ON LOVE MARRY; HE'S 76

Dr. Alfred B. Westrup has just returned from his third honeymoon. He is 76 years old. The bride, who is half his age, was Miss Maud Denning of "purity dance" fame and head of the People's Theater league in the Security building.

Dr. Westrup is the author of "Plenty of Money" and of a book on sex.

The two met at Mrs. Huldah Potter-Loomis' open forum, where he heard Miss Denning discuss the sex question. It progressed into a honeymoon trip to Oshkosh, Wis.

Her Sweetheart's "Spirit."

"The man to whom I was engaged died just a month before," said "Miss Denning." "I felt his spirit present when Dr. Westrup proposed. I was given the impression by the spirit of my dead sweetheart I should accept the offer of marriage and carry on the propaganda for a new matrimony.

"No woman has a right to take a man's money when she makes him unhappy. She should be paid as a scrubwoman for her services or as any other servant in his home, but should receive nothing more.

"We had a marriage ceremony performed because of convention, not from convictions. We are as free as if the ceremony had not been said. The state issues a license for drink, tobacco, and marriage. One does not need a license for what is natural and right. The fee for a marriage license is a form of graft. Why should one pay the state for a mate? Women should be as free to live with their mates as the pigeons which never separate during life. When we cease to love one another either is free to go."

Me, Too, Says Doctor.

Dr. Westrup has the same idea.

"I lived with my first wife seventeen years, chained because of the three children. But during the unhappy years I learned radical ideas on marriage. The tyrannical wife was left in New Orleans—I have forgotten her name now—perhaps it was Annie.

"Then after five years I married my second wife, whom I had met in an advertisement. She is Mrs. Sarah V. Westrup and lives at 3742 Ellis avenue. We lived together a year. I waited twenty years for the third wife and never knew what love was before," he said, turning to "Miss Denning."

Doctor's Rules for Wooing.

"The rules of finding 'true love' I have learned from long experience, are:

"To be perfectly frank, and have no secrets.

"To caress one another during courtship to learn whether suited in magnetism and natures.

"To be liberal, if a girl—with plenty of men.

"A girl should veto drinking and smoking as the two habits interfere with promotion of love by kisses.

F. HOPKINSON SMITH DEAD; AUTHOR, ARTIST, ENGINEER.

New York, April 7.—[Special.]—F. Hopkinson Smith, artist, author, and engineer, died this evening at the age of 77. Death was due to a complication of diseases.

Francis Hopkinson Smith was better known to the general public as an entertaining author and a skillful artist, but he was also one of the most eminent engineers in the United States.

Born in Baltimore, he began his activities as clerk in a hardware store and was later educated as a mechanical engineer. Going into the contracting business, he built the government's seawalls at Governor's island and at Tompkinsville, Staten island, besides the foundation for the Bartholdi Statue of Liberty on Bedloe's island, New York harbor.

For his works of art, landscape and illustration, he was awarded gold medals by the Philadelphia Art club and the American Art society.

He was the father of F. Berkely Smith, the architect, who is well known in the world of letters.

BOMB WRECKS BUILDING; BLOWS FAMILY OUT OF BED.

Joseph Coco, an Italian grocer at 2262 Wentworth avenue, was blown out of bed last night, with his wife and three small children, by a bomb which wrecked the front of the two story building and smashed windows and store fronts for a block in either direction.

Coco lives over the store. Police found him standing on the sidewalk, gazing at the debris in a resigned fashion. To the question as to trouble with his neighbors, "Mafia" letters, and the like he replied with a silent shrug of his shoulders.

"I'm going back to bed," he announced presently. And he did.

Fifteen or twenty Italians of the neighborhood were questioned with no better results. The police didn't even find the bomb.

FLEES PRISON; MAKES GOOD.

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—[Special.]—Matthew R. Prince, who escaped from Pontiac reformatory eight years ago, where he was serving a term for burglary, committed in Cook county, has made good. Prince is now a resident of St. Louis, in good circumstances, married, and has two children. Today his wife came to Springfield and sought executive clemency from Gov. Dunne. Her story was investigated by the governor, who recommended that the board of managers of Pontiac parole him immediately.

SULTAN PREDICTS ALLIES WILL FAIL

Turkish Ruler Says Fleet Will Not Be Able to Force Passage of Dardanelles.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 7.—"I am convinced that the Dardanelles cannot be forced. The brave conduct of the Turkish troops in the recent operations against the straits permits me to conclude that although the allies bend every effort and use every means at their disposal they will be unable to achieve their purpose."

Thus spoke Mehmed V., the sultan of Turkey, and first caliph of the Moslem world, today in the course of an audience which he granted the Associated Press correspondent.

The sultan throughout the audience showed and expressed the greatest confidence in Turkey's ability to withstand the onslaught of the allied forces and followed with the keenest interest a description of the operations by the allies on March 18 against the Dardanelles forts given by the correspondent, who acted as spokesman for those who had been accorded the audience.

Sorry for Heavy Losses.

His majesty asked details of the sinking of the French warship Bouvet and the British Irresistible. That the former had disappeared within three minutes brought a look into the kindly gray eyes of his majesty as if he regretted that so many human beings had perished without a chance to fight for life.

The sultan then asked if his troops appeared to be happy and contented. The answer being emphatically in the affirmative, a new smile of satisfaction lit up his face.

"It has been said that it was the factor of luck that made our victory on March 18 so complete and great," he remarked, "but we in the Turkish have a saying, 'Luck is infatuated with the efficient.'

Action of Allies Unjust.

"It appears unjust to me that the allies want to force the Dardanelles and take Constantinople just to import foodstuffs from Russia. But our army and coast defense force have shown their ability and willingness to do their duty. I am speaking here not alone of the Turkish defenders of the Dardanelles, but also those Germans who have so efficiently and bravely cooperated with them.

"I would thank you if you would say for me that my admiration for the German troops in the east and the west is so great that it is impossible for me to express in words my high opinion of their valor and efficiency. Concerning their chief commander, Emperor William, I can only say that we in Turkey pray that he may enjoy the best of health for many years."

Initial Step for Freeing Poland Taken by Russia

New Law Grants Municipal Self-Government to All the Cities.

(By Cable to The Chicago Tribune.)

PETROGRAD, April 7.—An earnest of the promised emancipation of Poland is to be found in the law just promulgated granting local municipal self-government to all towns in Poland. Of equal interest with the law itself is the care shown in its provisions to give a fair measure of representation to the Jewish population.

For the first time under the new law Polish committees enjoy a measure of self-government equal to that enjoyed by Russian incorporated town and districts.

All correspondence with state departments as also with public bodies or private persons outside Poland and replies to letters addressed to municipal authorities in Russia must be in Russian. Municipal placards and public notices must be in both languages in parallel columns. Debate in public assemblies may be in either language. Minutes must be in both languages, but questions if interpretation are decided according to the Russian entries.

INJUNCTION KEEPS LEPER OUT OF HIGHLAND PARK.

Citizens Allege Proximity to Street Along Which School Children Must Pass Is Dangerous.

Angelo Lunardi, the leper, who has kept Highland Park in a strong emotional state for some months past, is having more trouble again.

The authorities of Highland Park built what the residents have named "The Leper House," placing it in the jailyard adjoining the municipal lockup. This was destined for the more or less permanent residence of Mr. Lunardi, pending the close of the war in Europe, when it is expected that he can be sent back to Italy.

Yesterday three attorneys went to Waukegan and were granted a temporary injunction by Judge Edwards restraining the authorities of Highland Park from allowing the leper to live in the new building. The attorneys, John Welch, James G. Welch, and George Phillips, asserted the "leper house" is close to the street along which school children have to pass. They said also that Lunardi is not careful in preventing the spread of his disease.

W. E. O'Flaherty Must Give John Schuett Wheelbarrow Ride—Election Bet.

Attached to a wheelbarrow in front of W. E. O'Flaherty's restaurant at 800 Davis street, Evanston, is a sign which provoked much amusement among the suburb's residents yesterday. It reads:

"Evanston's first jitney bus will be put in service on Friday at 2 o'clock. O'Flaherty will be the motorman and John Schuett the conductor and only passenger."

Schuett, a real estate agent, and Flaherty had made election bet.

Eitel Interns When Aid Fails, Time Limit Ends

U. S. WILL HOLD BOAT

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Peters announced tonight that the German converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich will intern at Newport News, Va. The ship will remain in the custody of the United States until the end of the war.

The period fixed by the government neutrality board within which the Eitel Friedrich should leave the territorial waters of the United States, unless it was to be interned, expired at midnight tonight.

Expected German Aid.

At 8 o'clock Secretary Peters received a report from Collector of Customs Hamilton at Norfolk, transmitting a communication from Capt. Thierichens of the German ship, stating his intention to intern. The German captain disclosed for the first time that he had expected assistance from other warships of his government in order to make it possible to dash for the open sea with some hope of success.

In his communication he gave no details as to the basis of his expectations that assistance would be given him, but it is inferred that he expected German warships to distract or divert the British and French cruisers from their patrol outside the Virginia capes so as to permit the Eitel to steam away in safety.

Collector Hamilton was instructed immediately to suspend orders for the refusal of clearance papers to all outward bound merchant ships of the allies.

Letter of Eitel's Commander.

Here is the communication from Capt. Thierichens:

To Collector of Customs—Sir: I inform you I intend to intern Prinz Eitel Friedrich. The relief I expected to appear has not arrived in time, so the number and force of the enemy cruisers watching the entrance of the bay makes to me impossible the dash for the open sea with any hope for success.

I have decided not to deliver crew and ship to this fruitless and certain destruction. Being obliged for the courtesies shown by all United States authorities, I am expecting your orders. I have sent the same information to Rear Admiral Helm, U. S. S. Alabama. THIERICHENS, Commandant.

U. S. Method of Procedure.

When the navy authorities take charge of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich one of the first steps will be to make it incapable of going to sea or engaging in a fight. Sufficient portions of its machinery will be removed to make it impossible for the cruiser to move, and the breech locks of the guns also will be removed in all probability.

A member of the Eitel's crew accidentally was killed on board the raider today, but his identity and details concerning his death were withheld. The sailor was reported to have fallen and fractured his skull.

ORIGINAL IN "THE SPOILERS" SHOT FOR ANOTHER MAN.

Portland Attorney About Whom Rex Beach Built Story Is Seriously Wounded by Assailant.

Portland, Ore., April 7.—Wilson T. Hume, an attorney widely known in the west and in Alaska, was shot in the back at his office today and seriously wounded.

F. A. Consentino, a barber, was arrested. Consentino had quarreled with another lawyer in the same office and had been ejected. He could not see his victim's face as he fired, and the police say they believe he shot Hume by mistake.

Hume is said to have been the original of a leading figure in "The Spoilers," a novel by Rex Beach dealing with the gold rush in Alaska.

MAN PLUNGES INTO FIRE.

Hopes to Rescue Wife and Children, but They Already Had Escaped—He May Die.

Charles E. McKay, a Glencoe bricklayer, saw flames bursting from the windows of his little frame cottage when he returned home last night. Shielding his face with his hands, he plunged into the smoke filled hallway, shouting for his wife and 2 year old daughter.

Firemen got him out of the house, wrapped him in a blanket, and sent him to the St. Francis' hospital in Evanston. He was burned about the arms, hands, and body and his condition is said to be serious.

Mrs. McKay had taken their child to a neighbor's home, but McKay didn't know that.

ITALY MAY GET LAND CESSION BY AUSTRIA

One Report Says Kaiser Granted a Separate Settlement.

BULLETIN.

AVLONA, via Rome, April 7.—It is rumored that 40,000 Moslem insurgents officered by Turks and Germans are concentrated at El Bassan in preparation for an attack on Durazzo and a subsequent invasion of Serbia. The insurgents are well equipped and are provided with artillery which was smuggled in from Austria.

The relations of Italy to the war situation are reported in a variety of confusing and contradictory reports. One dispatch from Rome says that the correspondent learns on good authority that Austria is about to sue for peace, and that its impending action foreshadows the end of the war.

A dispatch from Paris says that Austria has engaged to cede the province of Trentino to Italy, and that Italy has agreed to remain neutral. This information is sharply contradictory in purport to the report from Rome.

Rotterdam hears that the German efforts to keep Italy from siding with the allies have failed.

From Italy comes news that the Italian fleet has concentrated within striking distance of the Adriatic. The various dispatches are given herewith.

CONSENT TO SEPARATE PEACE?

New York, April 7.—[Special.]—The Sun's Rome correspondent, Philip Mackenzie, cables tonight as follows:

"I have learned on excellent authority that Austria is about to sue for peace and that Germany, realizing the hopelessness of averting Italian intervention unless a settlement is made by the dual monarchy, has tacitly consented to her ally making a separate peace. This is regarded here as a prelude of the end of the war.

"Confidential information has been received that the kaiser realizes his inability to send any more troops into Austria to resist the Russian advance over the Carpathians, as he needs all his troops to guard his own frontiers.

Germany Will Fight On.

"Austria alone can make no effective resistance to the czar's armies, and hence is ready to give up the fight and plead for peace, with the object of saving the empire from annihilation.

"Germany, left alone to fight the allied nations and not yet defeated, will continue, it is said, to carry on resistance, so that if compelled to make peace its honor will be saved. Such an eventuality, although apparently improbable, is not regarded here as by any means impossible.

Serbia Will Gain Port.

"While nothing is admitted in official quarters regarding a settlement of the future of the countries bordering the Adriatic, there is a persistent report that Italy and Serbia, with the cognizance of the allies, have raised an argument whereby Serbia will finally gain that 'window on the sea' which was its aim in the Balkan wars, an aim which failed of realization because of the opposition of Italy and Austria.

"This report has it that Italy has stipulated that Serbia must not fortify the Adriatic port—Durazzo or Avlona—which is to be conceded to her.

"Signor Tittoni, the Italian ambassador at Paris, who has come to Rome for a consultation with the cabinet, is, it is believed, in charge of the negotiations with Serbia and the allies.

Plan for Mobilization.

"A special committee designed to deal with the civilian organization in case of mobilization, met at the capital today. It is composed of representatives of political, economic, and charitable institutions. The meeting was presided over by the vice mayor of Rome. The gathering gave its approval to a plan to divide the committee into six commissions to deal with the following subjects:

War propaganda, finances, public services, social and military assistance, and the organization of women. An appeal was issued asking for the cooperation of all citizens.

"Gen. Zupelli, minister of war, has written to Senators Gavazzi and Santini, who asked him for information regarding the arrangements for the spiritual consolation of the soldiers in case of war, that all priests summoned to the colors in case of mobilization will be drafted into the hospital corps, so as to be in a position to give religious aid to the wounded. Applications for posts as chaplains will be noted down at the war office."

ITALIAN FLEET MOBILIZED.

ON THE ITALIAN FRONTIER, April 7.—The warships of the Italian fleet departed suddenly on Monday from the Mediterranean naval stations at Spezia, Gaeta, and Maddalena island. They concentrated at Augusta, Sicily, and at Taranto. They are thus within a few hours of the Adriatic.

The departure of these warships caused a profound impression, particularly at Spezia, where until last Sunday the harbor was crowded with dreadnaughts, cruisers, and torpedo boat destroyers, while the town was filled with officers and sailors.

Italy now has the finest fleet in its history. It is headed by several new dreadnaughts, of which the most formidable is the Conte di Cavour, which corresponds in the Italian navy to Great Britain's Queen Elizabeth.

The future movements of the fleet are veiled with absolute secrecy. It is asserted that only the king and one or two of the highest government officials are acquainted with the plans decided upon.

Italy Reported Quieted.

PARIS, April 7.—Private advices have been received here to the effect that Italy and Austria have reached an agreement which will satisfy the aspirations of the Italian people for an enlargement of the national boundaries and preclude all possibility of armed intervention by Italy on the side of the allies.

While dispatches from Vienna recently said Emperor Francis Joseph was opposed to the cession of any territory as the price of continued neutrality on the part of Italy, the advices which have just come to hand state that the dual monarchy has consented to the cession of the province of Trentino. It is added that the necessary documents have been drawn up and signed.

This news bears out the reports from Geneva recently that Trentino, geographically and historically a portion of the Italian peninsula, was to be handed over to Italy, not to be occupied by Italian troops until the end of the great war. Austria has interposed this stipulation so as to be certain that Italy will maintain its neutrality, no matter what future events shall change the present situation.

Official Attitude Defined.

It has long been recognized here that however much the Italian people may desire to go to war on the side of the allies, the basic point in the official attitude of Italy is the declaration of Premier Salandra that Italy will remain neutral "until its interests are threatened."

It has been no secret that Italy would be willing to give a binding promise to the central empires to keep out of the conflict in return for satisfactory territorial concessions and assurances that its aspirations in the Adriatic would not be menaced in case of a Teutonic victory.

Kaiser Urged Concessions.

LONDON, April 8, 2:18 a. m.—The Rotterdam correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says he has absolutely reliable authority for stating that the German emperor himself recently visited Emperor Francis Joseph at Vienna to urge that Austria make territorial concessions in order to secure Italy's continued neutrality.

GERMANY'S SHIP SEIZURE CAUSES ANGER IN SWEDEN.

Vessel Belonged to Naval Minister and Vigorous Protest Has Been Made to Berlin.

STOCKHOLM, April 7.—The seizure by the Germans of the Swedish steamer England is expected by ship owners to meet with greater activity by the government in defense of Swedish rights, particularly since the vessel belongs to Naval Minister Bronstroem. Urgent representations have been made to Germany as to the desirability of releasing the vessel.

Britons Seize Two Ships.

LONDON, April 7.—The Norwegian steamer Stavn, which sailed from New York on March 10 for Gothenburg, Sweden, and the Swedish steamer Japan, from Yokohama, Jan. 8, for Gothenburg, were taken into Leith by naval escort on Saturday for examination of their cargoes.

RUSSIANS TAKE 60,000 TEUTONS IN SEVEN DAYS

Petrograd Announces Results in Carpathians; Principal Mountain Chain Seized.

PETROGRAD, April 7.—Russian armies rolling down on Hungary have captured more than 60,000 Austrians and Germans in the last week of fighting in the Carpathians, according to figures furnished by the war office today. In the Baligrod-Uszok pass sector alone the captives totaled 389 officers and 33,155 men. Westward, in the fighting for the Lupkow pass, about the same number of prisoners have been taken.

The war office also announced decided gains for the Russians by the capture of the Rostok pass and the villages of Smelnik and Orosz Ruszka, the latter town on the Hungarian side of the mountains and midway between the Lupkow and Uszok passes. Leading south from Orosz Ruszka, a good road follows the Cireka river for ten miles to the town of Sztakesin, at the northern terminus of another railway stretching south into the Hungarian plains.

Threaten Two Rail Lines.

The Slavs are now menacing two important railway heads, at Bartfeld and at Sztakesin, at the same time battling for possession of a trunk line leading south through Mezo Labore.

Russian Official Statement.

The following official communication was issued tonight:

"In the Carpathians, despite counter attacks by the enemy, who had obtained large reinforcements detached from the German and Austrian armies, our offensive continues between the Toplia river and the region in the direction of the Uzsok pass.

"All the summits of the principal chain of the Beskid mountains to the west of the region of the village of Ustszyki Gornia are in our hands and our troops are capturing in succession the southern spurs. On April 5 we took about 2,900 prisoners and three guns and several machine guns."

Austrian Official Statement.

VIENNA, April 7.—The following Austrian official communication was issued this evening:

"Fighting continues on the Carpathian front. An additional 930 Russian prisoners were captured on the heights east of the Laborcza valley. We also took two guns and several machine guns and much war material, including 5,000 rifles. In southeast Galicia only local artillery duels have taken place."

FRENCH AIRMEN BOMBARD MANY POSITIONS OF ENEMY.

Make Forty-three Reconnoissances in Day and Drop 1,000 Steel Arrows on German Bivouacs.

PARIS, April 7.—"The first days of spring, longer and clearer, have been marked by a recrudescence of activity on the part of the French aviators," says a press bureau note issued tonight.

"The simple recital of a day's aerial operations," the note continues, "will show the value of the efforts of this branch of the service. The record of April 2 includes forty-three reconnaissances and twenty instances where aviators were able to direct with greater efficiency the artillery fire. Numerous photographs of enemy positions were taken.

"The bombardment operations were as follows on this day: The aviation sheds at Habsheim, a factory at Dietwiller, and the railroad station at Walheim; the barracks and railroad station at Bendorf, the barracks of the Germans under construction at Vigneulles, the aviation grounds at Coucy les Château, north of Soissons, and the railroad station at Comines, Belgium; the railroad stations at Somme-Fy and Dontrien, and bivouacs near L'Escaille and St. Etienne sur Suippe.

"At other bivouacs near Basancourt and Pont Faverger French aviators dropped a thousand steel arrows."

The note then gives instances of daring combats between the French and enemy aeroplanes in the region of Soissons and Reims and in the valley of the Lys, asserting that three German machines were brought down.

Nobleman Enlists as Private.

LONDON, April 7.—The Daily Telegraph prints a story that the Earl of Crawford has enlisted as a private in the army medical corps and is now training in the ranks at Aldershot. Few of his comrades, it is said, are aware of his identity.

French Writer Says Allies Are Assured of a Victory

LONDON, March 27.—The eighth, ninth, and tenth installments of the French official review of the war were made public today.

The eighth article first discusses the shortage of officers in the German army. A report made in December, it says, showed that in a total of 124 companies, active or reserve, there were only forty-nine officers of the active army. The active regiments have at the present time, according to the review, an average of twelve professional officers, the reserve regiments nine to ten, the reserve regiments of new formation six to seven.

The French report points out that all the French regiments have been constantly kept at a minimum figure of eighteen professional officers to a regiment. The report then discusses the wastage of material, saying the Germans now lack cannon, ammunition, and rifles, and asserting the ammunition is of inferior quality.

Under the caption "Moral Wastage of the Germany Army" the review continues:

"The material losses of the German army have corresponded with a moral wastage. At the beginning of the war the entire German army was animated by an unshakable faith in the military superiority of the empire.

"The first prisoners we took in August showed themselves indifferent to the reverses of the German army. They were sincerely and profoundly convinced that if the German army retired it was in virtue of a preconceived plan, and that our successes would lead to nothing.

"At the moment of the battle of the Marne the first impression was one of failure of comprehension and of stupor. The severity of the losses sustained and the overpowering effects of the French artillery began from this moment to be noted among the Germans with veritable terror."

Letters found on dead German officers are given to show that the Germans are admitting defeat is possible and are fighting "to obtain an honorable peace" instead of a war of conquest.

Under the caption, "The scarcity of primary material for projectiles," the review points out that the chief explanation of the imperfections noted in the German projectiles is to be found in the bad quality of the primary material. It declares there is "a terrible scarcity of rubber," and that still more serious is "the scarcity of copper, which is indispensable for the manufacture of shells and munitions." The same condition, it is asserted, holds true of saltpeter and of the nitrates necessary for its manufacture.

The review then deals at great length and presents tables and quotations from German writers to prove the scarcity of food supplies within the empire. It says:

"It has been observed on several occasions that the revictualing of the German army has not been as regular as that of the French. In the case of the battle of the Marne and in the weeks which followed, the German prisoners were famished and declared they had eaten nothing for several days."

In the tenth and last installment the writer proceeds to draw his conclusions, which he places under four heads, as follows: "The bearing of the German defeat." "The bearing of the French success." "The three French superiorities," and "The offensive faith of the French army." Under the first, he says:

"Of the events of which an abridged recital has now been completed, it remains to appraise the results of these six months of war and to define the possibilities which those results have in store for us in the further operations.

"It may first of all be affirmed that the fundamental plan of the German general staff has completely failed. This plan has been set forth by German military writers, as also in the reichstag, by the ministers of war. It aimed at crushing France by an overwhelming attack and at reducing her to a condition of helplessness in less than a month.

"Germany has not succeeded in this. Our army is, as we have seen, not only intact, but strengthened, full of trust in its leaders, and profoundly permeated with the certainty of final success. Germany has not attained, then, the essential object which it publicly set before it. But the defeat which she has sustained does not apply only to her fundamental plan. It extends also to the various operations which she has essayed to secure partial advantages over us in default of the decisive advantage in which she has failed.

"To sum up, the German general staff has placed upon its record since the beginning of the campaign, apart from the failure of its general plan, seven defeats of high significance, namely, defeat of the sudden attack on Nancy, defeat of the rapid march on Paris, defeat of the envelopment of our left in August, defeat of the same envelopment in November, defeat of the attempt to break through our center in September, defeat of the coast attack on Dunkirk and Calais, and the defeat of the attack on Ypres."

"Every one is aware that in order to gain the day against the coalition which incloses her, Germany needed a rapid success. This rapid success lacking, her defeat is certain.

"It is known that the British army in France, which at first consisted of four divisions, is today [beginning of February] composed of ten British divisions, two Indian divisions, and two cavalry corps, with 900 guns, of which 100 pieces are of heavy artillery. It is known also that the number of troops now with the colors and being trained in England is very large.

"It is known that the Belgian army, which is reconstituting itself, will shortly have six divisions of infantry and two divisions of cavalry. It is known that the Serbian army, supplied afresh with material and munitions, is once again prepared to show its splendid qualities. It is known finally that Russia continues to draw upon the immense reservoir of her recruits, having up to the present utilized only the twentieth part.

"On account of the Austrian defeats Germany will be obliged to strengthen her forces against Russia more and more. The number of troops opposed to France will therefore continually decrease. Our position will be improved by this circumstance, as also by the number of German losses, which will always remain larger than ours, and, finally, by the large reinforcements which the British between now and July will send to the continent."

ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY URGES BRITONS TO ABSTAIN.

Churchman Calls on Nation to Give Up Liquor Until the War Ends—No Cabinet Action.

LONDON, April 7.—"In view of all that is now happening and following the unprecedented lead of his majesty, the king," the archbishop of Canterbury writes in an appeal just published, "we desire to press seriously on the minds of those whom we can influence the duty and privilege of bearing a voluntary part in the nation's self-discipline and self-sacrifice by abstaining from all alcoholic drink during the continuance of the war. Some definite act on the part of us all is due our brave men, the nation at large, and to God."

The cabinet discussed the question of prohibition today. No decision was reached.

SERBIAN TOWNS BOMBARDED

Austrians Shell Belgrade from Across River, Killing Three Persons—Serb Artillery Replies.

NISH, April 7.—The Austro-Hungarian artillery bombarded Serbian towns on the Danube and Save rivers. Twenty-eight heavy projectiles fell in the central quarter of Belgrade, killing three persons and wounding six others.

The Serbian artillery shelled the Austro-Hungarian positions, but avoided shelling the towns on the Austro-Hungarian banks of the rivers, which are inhabited exclusively by Serbians.

FRENCH ASSAULT ON GERMAN LINE BRINGS BIG FIGHT

PARIS, April 7.—A furious assault on the German positions between the Meuse and the Moselle is being made by the French, in continuation of their new offensive movement, but the official statement from Paris gives few details.

"Activity has been pronounced between the Meuse and the Moselle," the statement says, "where we have maintained all our gains and made further advances.

"Near Parail, east of Verdun, we have taken two lines of trenches. At Eparges we made an important advance.

"All today the Germans were engaged in violent counter attacks, but they regained nothing.

In Ailly wood, after several counter attacks, we remained masters of the position which we gained yesterday. On this part of the front we captured numerous prisoners."

Germans Tell of Fighting.

BERLIN, April 7.—German headquarters has issued the following description of the fighting in France between the Meuse and Moselle:

"When the enemy's infantry began to deploy the German outposts retreated, according to a prearranged plan, from Regnieville and Fay-En-Haye to their main position on Easter Monday.

"The French attack against the southern front at first to the north of Toul and then in the forest of Le Pretre, began simultaneously with attacks against our north wings to the south of the Orne and between Eparges and Combres, but the French, nowhere were successful, they being everywhere thrown back.

"The severest fighting took place between the Meuse and Apremont, where, in the wooded country, the French were able to approach close to the German positions, but were received with an annihilating fire at short range.

Le Pretre Attacks Fail.

"On April 6 attacks by the French in the forest of Le Pretre and near Fitrey failed. So far the French have only to record fresh failures on the ground which has been the scene of repeated struggles, but it seems that their attacks are not yet at an end.

"The village of Dret Grachten, which was occupied by our troops the day before yesterday and which the enemy has bombarded with his heaviest artillery and mine throwers, was abandoned by us last night.

"An attack in the Argonne broke down under the fire of our chasseurs.

"Northeast of Verdun a French advance approached only as far as our outer positions. To the east and southeast of Verdun a series of attacks made by the enemy failed with extraordinarily heavy losses."

NO MONOPOLIES ASKED IN CHINA

Japanese Premier Says Other Nations Will Have Square Deal.

PLEDGE TO AMERICA.

New York, April 7.—The Independent has received from Count Okuma, the Japanese premier, the following "message to the American people":

"Tokio, April 3.—The uneasiness and suspicion in the United States in connection with Japan's negotiations at Peking are based on misunderstanding and misinformation scattered broadcast by interested mischief makers. When the negotiations are disclosed it will be found:

"That Japan has not infringed the rights of other nations.

"That Japan has adhered strictly to the principle of equal opportunity.

Does Not Seek Monopoly.

"That Japan is not seeking to secure in China any advantage which does not accord with the Anglo-Japanese alliance or with any treaties or undertakings with the United States.

"We have fully informed the United States and other interested powers as to Japan's purposes.

"We believe that they are satisfied.

Negotiations Near End.

"The negotiations between Japan and China are nearing a satisfactory conclusion.

"I am now willing to state publicly through the Independent that Japan is confident of the rectitude and good faith of her position.

FINDS INJUSTICE TO ITS WORKERS BRITAIN'S FAULT

BY CAROLYN WILSON.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE.]
[Copyright: 1915: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ARTICLE IV.

LONDON, March 21.—Lord Kitchener not recently made one of his infrequent speeches in parliament. It was directed against the strikers and complainers in various parts of the country, who by their unwillingness to work and their demands for more time and money are seriously hindering the progress of the allies and are indirectly responsible for more deaths and more battles lost.

Will Kitchener be obeyed? That is the question. Which is more probable—that the companies which are automatically making immense fortunes out of the war will come forward on a profit sharing basis, or that the men who are working double shifts at the same old wages will be convinced that patriotism demands their sacrifices and go on working without complaint?

Since we aren't at the millennium yet, it looks like 50-50 to me, and I fancy the trouble will go on until the government takes a direct hand in it, although Lord Kitchener holds out the hope of a pretty medal to any workman who is loyal and thorough straight through to the end of the war.

Ammunition, Kitchener's Plea.

Since his words will undoubtedly have a great effect both on companies and men alike, I will quote the most important:

"While the workmen generally have worked loyally and well, there have, I regret to say, been instances where absence, irregular timekeeping, and slack work have led to a marked diminution in the output of our factories.

"I have heard rumors that the workmen in some factories have an idea that the war is going so well that there is no necessity for them to work their hardest.

"I can only say that the supply of war material at the present moment and for the next two or three months is causing me very serious anxiety, and I wish all those engaged in the manufacture and supply of these stores to realize that the output of every round of ammunition is of the utmost importance and has a large influence on our operations in the field.

Government to Take Control.

"Labor may very rightly ask that their patriotic work should not be used to inflate the profits of the directors and shareholders of the various great industrial and armament firms, and we are therefore arranging a system under which the important armament firms will come under government control, and we hope that workmen who work regularly by keeping good time shall reap some of the benefits which the war automatically confers on these great companies.

"I feel strongly that the men working long hours in the shops by day and by night, week in and week out, are doing their duty for their king and country in a like manner with those who have joined the army for active service in the field.

"I am glad to be able to state that his majesty has approved that where services in this great work of supplying the munitions of war has been thoroughly, loyally, and continuously rendered, the award of a medal will be granted on the successful termination of the war."

Workers' Side of Case.

I talked to many of the labor union men and to the women who have been making an investigation of the subject for their unions. Miss Margaret Bondfield had just returned, when I saw her, from a tour north and south, and she said that injustice was at the root of all the trouble.

"Fundamentally, the trouble lies in the fact that men who knew their business were allowed to volunteer," Miss Bondfield said, "and the company thought to put in inferior men at low wages and by working them on double shifts to save money. Expert engineers or mechanics are needed at home, as much as soldiers are at the front."

The situation is serious—and, more, it produces a bad impression.

Lord Kitchener's words foreshadow government control to insure the maximum of output. It would be strange, wouldn't it, if through war which Socialism decries it should at last come into its own?

Another article by Miss Wilson will appear in "The Tribune" tomorrow.

WOMAN PLEADS FOR AID TO SERBS

American nurses are coming back from the Serbian hospitals because there is absolutely nothing left to work with.

Women and children are dying of typhus in the concentration camps. If they are returned to their home villages they will face starvation.

Emissary of Serbian Chief.

This is the message brought to Chicago yesterday by Mrs. Rutherfurd Stuyvesant Pierrepont of New York, a great-granddaughter of William Cullen Bryant. Mrs. Pierrepont comes as an emissary of the Serbian agricultural relief committee of America, an organization formed under the patronage of Princess Helen of Serbia and headed by Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university, as chairman of the honorary committee.

At a conference in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. George S. Isham Mrs. Pierrepont was promised the aid of a committee of prominent Chicago women in arranging for one or more downtown mass-meetings to arouse Chicago to Serbia's need of relief. The central figure of these meetings will be Mme. Slavko Grouitch, wife of the Serbian under secretary for foreign affairs, who will arrive next week.

"I was interested in this work," said Mrs. Pierrepont, "by a Miss Simmons, a trained nurse who served in the Serbian hospitals with Mme. Grouitch until the supplies gave out, and it was agreed that the nurses could accomplish more by returning to London and America and telling of conditions in Serbia than by staying in the hospitals.

"There is not a thing left in the hospitals. Bandages, antiseptics, everything is gone. Even in their wealthy days it was possible to change the dressings on a wound only once in nine days. Now they cannot even do that.

"And even so the most urgent need is not in the hospitals or on the field. What we want to do particularly is to get the women and children back on the farms. They have been driven down into the concentration camps, and typhus and other epidemics are raging among them. Their homes have been destroyed by the Austrians and they are without food, clothing, seed or agricultural implements."

THRESHER CASE A HARD PROBLEM

Capital Sees Death as Most Serious Issue Which U. S. Faces.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—That the administration regards the Thresher case as the most serious incident of the European war with which the United States has been called upon to deal was disclosed here today.

Leon C. Thresher of Massachusetts was killed in the destruction of the British steamer Falaba by a German submarine and the administration is conducting an investigation of the Falaba incident with a view to determining whether the United States would be justified in holding Germany to "strict accountability" for the death of Thresher. According to the British reports, it would appear that the submarine commander violated the law of nations guaranteeing immunity to neutral passengers aboard the merchant vessel of a belligerent.

The German government has sought to forestall possible action of the United States by disclaiming responsibility for the death of Thresher.

The gravity of the matter is increased by the fact that thousands of Americans travel to and from Europe on British and French steamers. It is conceivable that a liner carrying scores of citizens of the United States may be attacked and sunk by a German submarine. The Thresher case may be a precedent for action by the United States in such a contingency.

State department officials were asked today whether they interpreted the American warning to Germany to apply to Americans on American ships only or on British and French vessels also. They replied that they do not care to pass upon this point.

Women and the young especially should listen to common sense. There is so much advice nowadays that one hesitates in the good philanthropic work of telling life's absolute worked-out and proven facts. Don't be deluded into the idea that you can buy yourself rich—getting rich is in holding on to what you have. If you have a reasonable competency, keep it. If you are working for wages, save a certain per cent of them—put the savings in this big, strong loop bank. Your interest is compounded twice yearly which is almost as much income as the best known bond brings, with the added advantage that it can be turned into money at a moment's notice.

To a bank with a worked-out method for usefulness, through long years of experience, you are highly invited to bring your account.

OBREGON ROUTS VILLA'S TROOPS; KILLS 1,000 FOE

Defeats Forces Led by Rebel Chief Near Irapuato; Huerta Coming to United States.

Vera Cruz, April 7.—Gen. Obregon today inflicted a serious defeat on the Villa troops between Celaya and Irapuato, on the Mexican Central railroad. It was the first big engagement since the evacuation of Mexico City.

Gen. Obregon in his official report says that Francisco Villa was personally in command of his forces. The fighting continued for thirty hours, according to the report, and after the retreat of Villa's men more than 1,000 of Villa's dead were found on the field. Four hundred prisoners were taken.

Obregon reported to Gen. Carranza that he would continue immediately his advance.

Huerta Coming to U. S.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—Official announcement that Victoriano Huerta, late Mexican dictator, was on his way from Spain to the United States was received at the state department today from the American consul at Seville.

Huerta recently sailed on the steamer Antonio Lopez, due to arrive at New York on Saturday. It will be his first visit to the United States, his defiance of which last year in the stirring months before he voluntarily went into exile led to the American occupation of Vera Cruz.

The Carranzista gunboat Guerrero reached Guaymas Monday night and has warned foreigners to leave before bombardment begins, the Mexican Constitutionalist agency here announced today. Guaymas and Hermosillo mobs have looted business houses, it was added.

Bullets Fly Into Brownsville.

Brownsville, Tex., April 7.—Bullets poured into one of the outlying sections of Brownsville late today during a brief engagement between the Carranza trenches in Matamoros and a party of Villa outposts. None one was injured.

U. S. SEEKS TO EXPATRIATE NATURALIZED RUM SELLER.

John Bartak, Chicago Heights Violator of Sunday Closing Law, Got Papers by Fraud, It Is Said.

Pursuing its policy of backing up state laws, the government filed a bill in the United States District court yesterday seeking the cancellation of the naturalization papers of John Bartak, a Chicago Heights saloonkeeper.

Bartek, it is alleged, was refused naturalization papers several years ago on the ground that he had been in the saloon business within a year prior to the filing of his application, and had violated the Sunday closing law.

In 1914, however, he got his papers on a new application, after John C. Trainor and James E. McGrath, lawyers, had sworn he had not been in the saloon business for more than a year. The immigration authorities in their petition now assert that Bartak was naturalized by fraud. Affidavits have been filed to the effect that he was in the saloon business within the year and was a continual violator of the Sunday closing law.

Bartak is a Hungarian.

GATEMAN SLEEPS AS TRAIN KILLS

AROUSED; PULLS LEVER

Frank Carroll has a job out in Forest Park that keeps him pretty much of a prisoner all day in a tiny two story house by the railroad tracks. The house hasn't much to boast about in the way of interior decorations and the work, though some hold it quite important, is monotonous.

Next door to the little house by the railroad tracks is a saloon, comfortable and neighborly. Good company is always to be found there, and good cheer. Frank Carroll likes both.

When Carroll signed articles many years ago it was understood he was to stay in the little house while on duty. Yesterday he left it several times. The last time he returned he realized he was getting old—close to 60. He was very tired and quitting time was many hours away.

He Goes to Sleep.

At just 12:07 o'clock Carroll knew he would have business to do. There was still time for a nap. Up on the second floor of his little house he went to sleep.

About the same time George W. Gumpers, with a wife in the hospital and a 4 year old son at home, was rolling west in Madison street on the driver's seat of a Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co. motor truck.

The truck, making fair speed, reached Forest Park and ran up the approach to the Soo line tracks.

The gates were up, which told Gumpers the way was clear. He kept on going.

From the north a train was coming, bound from Fond du Lac, Wis., to Chicago. Gumpers did not see or hear it. Train and truck met at the crossing. Sam Leaghem, Gumpers' 20 year old helper, jumped from the tail of the truck just before the smash and landed outside the danger zone unhurt.

Buried in Wreck.

Gumpers, who had no time to jump, was buried in the wreck.

The crash of the collision was heard as far away as the Forest Park police station—and the crash was only the beginning. The truck was rolled over and pushed in front of the locomotive, which wedged it against the passenger shed. Then the truck's gasoline tank exploded. The wreck caught fire and the fire extended to the shed. The fire department came. The police came. All Forest Park turned out. It was the biggest excitement the village had known in years.

When Gumpers' broken body and severed head had been recovered from the wreck and the fire in the passenger shed had been put out, policemen went up into the gate tower to see if by any chance injury had come to the gateman. It was the little house by the railroad tracks in which Frank Carroll worked. He was the gateman.

The Tragedy of Sleep.

Carroll was where he had stretched himself to await the coming of the 12:07. The 12:07 had come and he was none the wiser. Of all excited Forest Park, he alone slept.

It was several minutes before the policemen could arouse him. At last he staggered to his feet. He looked at his watch at the wall clock and then was suddenly wide awake. He grabbed at the gate levers and down swung the gates, with leisurely finality. It was 12:20.

Carroll was taken to the police station. By the time he got there, after being marched in review past the wreckage, he had recovered his wits.

"It wasn't my fault," he said. "The gates got stuck. They wouldn't work. I couldn't help it."

At an inquest today, Carroll of the little house by the railroad tracks will tell of the gates that wouldn't work. The police will tell of a man asleep at the switch.

HOSPITAL NURSES LEAD PATIENTS FROM FIRE PERIL

The fire wall and the steel doors between the twin buildings of the Chicago Eye, Ear, Nose, and Throat hospital at 233-35 Washington street came in handy last night. Except for them, for the early discovery of what might have developed into a dangerous fire, and for the prompt action of the night superintendent and her nurses, panic might have resulted.

At 8:30 o'clock a patient went into the third floor washroom. Finding the place filled with smoke, he hurried to the office and notified Miss Nellie Coash, the night superintendent. First Miss Coash sent Joseph Ernst, the engineer, to the quarters of Truck Co. 6, a half block away. Then she called her three night nurses, Theresa Brown, Alice Winters, and Alice Johnson.

"Close the Fire Doors."

"Get the patients into the east half of the building as quickly and quietly as you can," she directed. "Then close the fire doors."

The nurses carried out Miss Coash's orders, assisted by two policemen met by Ernst on his way to the fire house.

Sixteen patients already quartered into the east half of the building became alarmed when the other patients were led and carried into their wards, but the fire doors were closed before much smoke had drifted through them. One of those who had been in the threatened west building was a new mother. She insisted on carrying her baby herself.

Firemen arrived before the fire had gained much headway. A few minutes later they reported the last spark had been stamped out.

Damage of about $500 was done by the fire, which is believed to have started from crossed electric wires between the second floor ceiling and the flooring of the story above.

Fire Empties Flats.

Thirty families were driven by smoke from the Cornell apartments at 1452-1468 East Fifty-seventh street at night when fire spread from a garage in a corner of the lower floor of the building.

The fire was discovered shortly after 10 o'clock by several University of Chicago students who were playing cards in the rear room of a nearby cigar store. They smelled smoke, saw the blaze in the garage, and one of them—Mark Day, son of Clyde L. Day of the Chicago Title and Trust company—sent in an alarm.

By the time the apparatus arrived the tenants already were streaming from the threatened building. Some found shelter in the homes of neighbors. Others joined a crowd of several thousand persons who gathered to watch the firemen fight the blaze.

GIRL ARTIST ACCUSES.

All F. J. Arndt's character witnesses availed him naught yesterday when he appeared with them in Judge Prindiville's court to fight a charge of flirting preferred by Miss Fava M. Klug, an 18 year old art student. Miss Klug asserted that Arndt, a manufacturing jeweler of 108 North State street, had been annoying her on "L" trains for two years.

"The last time this man annoyed me I had him arrested," she testified. "He sat down beside me, spread his newspaper over my lap and put his hand on my knee. I moved away and he followed."

William Lampert, a guard on the train, said he had noticed Arndt busy with similar tactics more than once.

Arndt's attorneys then triumphantly introduced their character witnesses. They testified he was a man of family, a home man, an eminently respectable citizen, the victim of a plot. Judge Prindiville listened to several of them. Finally he interrupted.

"Such testimony is irrelevant," he said "It makes no difference that Mr. Arndt is a man of family and of affairs. Ministers and deacons have been guilty of similar offenses."

Arndt was fined $100, despite his protest that he had been jostled by Miss Klug, and his subsequent actions had been engendered by a fear for valuable articles of jewelry which he was carrying to his store.

SLAYERS OF ALEX PRINCE KILLED FLORIST WEH.?

Capt. Smith Gets Anonymous Telephone Message and Goes on Hunt for Three Men.

An anonymous telephone message received by the Englewood police yesterday has led Capt. Joseph Smith to believe the same gang of robbers who slew Alexander G. Prince, jeweler at 6734 Vincennes avenue, last month murdered William W. Weil, florist, at 421 West Sixty-third street early last Monday morning.

The suspects are said to be three young tough characters of the district, but their names are being kept secret. Capt. Smith thought so well of the tip that he immediately released Joseph and Frank Daly and Thomas Ryan, whom he was detaining as witnesses, and personally directed a search for the men named by the mysterious informant.

BUSINESS DESKS

Revell & Co. have just made another great purchase of a surplus stock of high grade desks. These desks are unusually attractive in design, made of selected beautifully grained woods. The finishing is well done and the equipment adapted to modern requirements.

Just now there are many business men looking for unusual values in office equipment. They will find it decidedly to their interest to see these goods at once.

The cut of desk illustrated here hardly shows the value in size of equipment. The desk has document boxes, card index, private locker, extension slides, automatic lock, and the legs are fitted with brass sockets.

The length of the desk is sixty inches. The value is $55.00, but the sale price is $35.00. It is a bargain. When the house of Revell & Co. does these things they are well done.

BRYAN OPPOSES PROHIBITION AS ISSUE IN 1916

Says in Statement Neither Platform, in His Opinion, Will Deal with Liquor.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—Secretary of State Bryan today disposed of reports that he is seeking to make the prohibition question a vital issue in the next national campaign instead of having it confined to the states.

In the formal statement he said it does not seem probable that the liquor question will find a place in the platform of either the Democratic or the Republican party next year.

"I do not know to what extent the liquor question will be an issue in the campaign next year," Mr. Bryan says. "At the present time it does not seem probable that it will find a place in the platform of either the Democratic or the Republican party, but there is no reason why the national committeemen should not represent the sentiment of the party on this subject as on other subjects.

"Prohibition is not an issue in all the states, but wherever it is an issue, I hope to see the Democratic party take the prohibition side."

Statement Made to Iowan.

The statement was issued to the press in connection with a letter of Mr. Bryan to L. S. Kennington of Iowa in regard to the selection of a national Democratic committeeman from that state.

"The legislature of Iowa has voted statutory prohibition, and also has submitted to the people a prohibition amendment to the constitution," Mr. Bryan says in his letter to Mr. Kennington. "It becomes necessary, therefore, for the voters of Iowa to act upon the liquor question.

Paints Liquor Men as Blight.

"The brewer, the distiller, and the saloonkeeper are in conspiracy against all that is pure in society, against all that is sacred in the family, against all that is good in industry and desirable in government. I do not mean to say that every brewer, every distiller, or every saloonkeeper is consciously conspiring, but the business in which these men are engaged is the enemy of progress and civilization and they are not in position to oppose the influence that dominates it.

"Those who represent the liquor interests are conscienceless in their methods; they debauch the individuals through whom they act, and any party to which they dictate. The Democratic party can only hope for success when it gives expression to high ideals and makes itself the champion of the noblest principles and the best policies.

"Whenever a moral question is raised, therefore, there is but one side to it, unless the party is willing to sell its soul for a support which cannot be more than temporary and which cannot be accepted even temporarily without the forfeiture of public respect.

Attitude, Not Man, He Says.

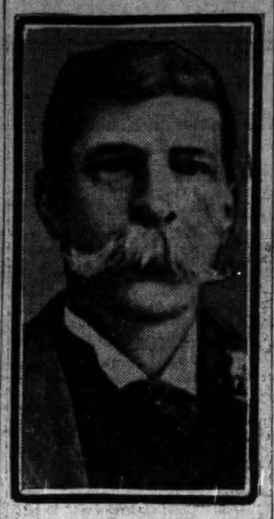

"It does not matter much what particular individual is chosen as national committeeman, but it matters a great deal whether he stands on the moral or immoral side of the line that separates the forces that are soon to engage in political battle in Iowa.

"It would be far better to take an obscure man who is right on the liquor question than a well known man who is wrong on the liquor question, for an unknown man ceases to be unknown when he becomes the exponent of a righteous cause—he borrows strength from his cause, whereas individual strength and personal influence dwindle into nothingness under the blight of an unholy alliance with an immoral cause.

"If, therefore, anybody asks you my opinion you may say that in any contest between a 'wet' and a 'dry' candidate for national committeeman I am for the dry candidate, and that I shall be greatly disappointed if the Democratic party in Iowa does not throw the weight of its great influence against the liquor interests and all that they stand for or desire."

BELGIAN WOMAN ASKS AID FROM CHICAGOANS.

Madame Depage Appeals for Cash to Establish War Hospitals in Belgium.

Pleas for the "Free land of King Albert," that small tract of land now twenty miles long and forty miles wide, and for the field and folding hospitals were eloquently made by Mme. Depage in the drawing room of Mrs. George Isham's home at 1340 North State street yesterday afternoon.

Mme. Depage, wife of Dr. Antoine Depage, surgeon general of Belgium, was introduced by Dr. L. L. McArthur. She said:

"I have one-third of the money needed to establish a Chicago unit, so generous have I found you all. By a unit I mean a completely outfitted hospital which costs $20,000 and includes the staff, the nurses, the ambulances, the tables, the beds, the bandages—everything. For $30 any one of you can give us a bed, for $1,000 a ward. And if you could see, could know the need."

Among those present were Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick, Mrs. James L. Houghteling, Mrs. Arthur Aldis, Mrs. Charles Counselman, Mrs. Frank Hibbard, Mrs. Robert Hotz, Mrs. William P. Hunt, Miss Marie Rozet, Mrs. George Carpenter, Mrs. Edward A. Leicht, Miss Margaret Talbot, and Mrs. John Chew.

CHICAGO POLLING CAUSE OF ALARM IN WASHINGTON

of progressive Democracy in Illinois. There are several high officials in the Wilson administration who disclosed such views today—not for publication, however.

Secretary of State Bryan, who fought Mr. Sullivan vigorously in the Illinois senatorial primary campaign last year, was asked today whether he had any comment to make upon the Chicago election. He replied with an emphatic negative.

Fear Fusion of Rivals.

Not the least disappointing of the aspects of the Chicago election, in the view of the Democrats, is the indication that the Progressives are back in the Republican fold. It is realized that so overwhelming a victory could not have been won by Thompson had not the Progressives lined up with practical unanimity with their former political associates.

Inasmuch as Illinois was one of the banner Progressive states and Chicago the stronghold of the Progressive territory in that state, the Democrats fear that the third party which made possible the election of Wilson in 1912 is as good as dead.

START SHERMAN TALK.

Mayor-to-be Thompson's election Tuesday by a plurality over Sweitzer of 130,000 has opened the 1916 campaign in Illinois.

The fight is wide open on both sides, Democratic and Republican. The big chiefs on either side admit it.

Determined effort is to be made by the winning Republicans to make Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman the Republican nominee for the presidency.

Wilson Is "Through?"

The Democratic proposition, from a Chicago organization standpoint, is that President Wilson is "through." Gov. Dunne, by the same token, is "through." The president can have the Illinois delegation of fifty-eight for the asking in the direct presidential primaries next April, and, as the ritual says, "Go in Peace."

The same is now said to apply to Gov. Dunne. The talk yesterday was that the governor may have a renomination without a contest. All he has to do is to announce himself, it was whispered. If he doesn't want to run he may name his candidate.

The only strings attached to the Democratic presidential situation run back to the organization determination that William J. Bryan shall have nothing to say about the Illinois delegates. In spite of Sweitzer's defeat, there is plenty of fight left within the Democratic ranks to stop any pro-Bryan movement in Illinois.

Illinois to Vote Direct.

This is important politically, inasmuch as Illinois is one of two states in the union which will vote directly next April in direct preferential primaries on presidential candidates.

The Illinois direct presidential primary law, passed by the legislature four years ago through the efforts of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, provides for a straight preferential vote, within the parties, in April, 1916. Under the act Illinois is in position to occupy a preeminent situation, as far as presidential preferences go.

RAILROADS LOCK HORNS WITH MEN OVER CREW BILL

Train Length Measure Also Fought by Managers of Illinois Lines.

The long expected fight between the Illinois railroads and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen over the extra crew and train length bills now pending before the state legislature has broken out.

The bills, which were introduced by the friends of the labor organizations, provide that the minimum number of men to be employed in switching or make up and break up trains shall be five and prohibit the carriers from operating trains of more than fifty cars. The legislative committee on railway legislation has set April 21 as the date for hearing the arguments of the opposing sides.

Attacks the Railroads.

William A. Robinson, secretary of the trainmen's organization, yesterday issued an attack upon the railroad managers, charging that petitions had been circulated and that thousands of voters had been inveigled into signing protests against the bills under misinformation.

Mr. Robinson claims that the trainmen are supported in their demands by the joint labor legislative board, which represents 600,000 working men and women.

National Campaign.

The opposition which the railroad interests are making in Illinois is part of a national campaign. The full crew bill was defeated by popular vote in Missouri and efforts are now being made in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and New York to repeal laws now on the books.

The Chicago association of commerce is making a study of the questions, and on Friday the executive committee will make public its recommendations.

Doctor Will Get Medal.

The fifth Willard Gibbs medal of the Chicago section of the American Chemical society will be presented to Dr. Arthur Amos Noyes, director of the research laboratory of physical chemistry of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at a dinner in the Hotel Sherman on Friday evening, April 16.

Maxine Elliott Writes of Her Work on Floating Hospitals in French War Zone.

"The Tribune" presents herewith the first four of a series of personal letters from Miss Maxine Elliott, the actress, written from her Relief Barge in France and Belgium to a woman friend who formerly lived in Chicago. It is believed the readers will find them intensely interesting as affording, in an intimate, personal way, a woman's impressions of the desolate land.

The recipient of the letters gives them to "The Tribune" for publication with the approval of Miss Elliott, who is frankly anxious for aid in prosecuting the work of succor for the sick and homeless and penniless Belgian people. Out of her own funds Miss Elliott is paying $500 a week in support of the work.

The letters mention numerous persons by their initials. "K." is Kathleen, Lady Drogheda, whose husband is in the British war office; Miss "C." is Miss Close, a friend; "L." is Lord Leigh, and "Gertrude" is Lady Forbes-Robertson, Miss Elliott's sister.

Miss Elliott says that checks should be made out to Maxine Elliott Relief Barge Fund, and sent to the Bankers' Trust company, New York.

WRECK LEFT IN WAR'S WAKE LIKE THAT OF GREAT QUAKE

THE AMERICAN COMMISSION FOR RELIEF IN BELGIUM, Barge Julia, Calais, Feb. 4.—Dearest G.: I am sitting here on the barge waiting for K. to come from her begging expedition to the base commandant trying to get four mattresses so that Gwatkin and the sailors won't have to sleep on the floor.

It is impossible to buy a mattress in Calais. The Red Cross and army have scoured the place clean, and of course all the manufactories at Lille have long been in the hands of the armies. No one can guess the difficulties of life in war time.

One's whole time seems wasted in overcoming petty annoyances that one cannot foresee because in peace time there is no precedent for them. I have just succeeded in borrowing from the army commissariat 10,000 tins of milk, two tons of potatoes, 500 barrels of sugar, and hogshead after hogshead of salt pork to supplement our cargo. We have $10,000 worth of food on board now, and a dozen enormous bales of clothing, so our homely Julia will bring relief from starvation at least to many of these unhappy villages.

Imagine the San Francisco earthquake with no place to flee to and you will get an idea of the conditions of life in all the bombarded towns. Rich and poor alike have nothing and tragedy hovers everywhere in that no man's land.

My conscience troubles me in bothering you about my letters to the press, but I know that you will work with all the love and interest in the world, though no doubt you are already overburdened with your own work and charities. I hope my letters in the New York press have had some results. It will be a shame if I am bothering you for nothing.

This undertaking I have embarked upon is getting much too big for me and I can only go on with help from the public. It is wonderful work, though, really, for we reach the people directly who benefit, and they are far too inaccessible to receive help from the great funds.

Once the barge arrives in Belgium we'll keep it there and have our cargoes sent up by transport; otherwise one stands the chance of being sent back at any moment, for women aren't allowed at the front, and in spite of all my magical passes, something might happen, with three governments to consult, so from now on I shall be at front and write when I can to the press to help me, and all my goods can still come from the Furness Line docks. The agent there buys what food I direct—all prices here are ruinous, of course.

We are still delayed because of that wretched old burst reservoir, but they swear it will be put in place tomorrow. Then off we go on our great adventure.

Such excitement this moment—every light in the city has been turned off, so I suppose warning has come that aeroplanes or some such danger is hovering near, and I am trying to write now by the flickering rays of a solitary candle.

Did I write you that I was in the Dunkirk raid and a house was blown to bits fifty yards in front of me? No one hurt, but seven people were killed a little further on.

My dearest love to you.

RAIN AND TERRIFIC WIND MAKE JOURNEY DIFFICULT

THE AMERICAN COMMISSION FOR RELIEF IN BELGIUM, Barge Julia, somewhere near Gravelines, in France, Feb. 9.—G., Dearest: Here we are stuck in the canal for a few hours while a boat that is jammed in a lock further up is being extricated. It is raining pitchforks and blowing a gale, so it is even difficult to navigate a barge in these narrow canals. The little tug has been working valiantly, but the wind is so violent that we blow against the sides now and then with a fearful bump, so it is just as well we must "lay to" for a while.

K., Miss C., F., and I are the only people here, except the three Belgian soldiers who look after the barge. We scrub the floors, do all the cooking, make the beds, and work like cooks, housemaids, and odd men combined. It is very interesting and we all love it, and wait till you see our old barge. What little ingenuity I possess has been spent in getting it properly heated, lighted, and ventilated. It is as pretty as a picture inside, with all the kitchen pots and pans hanging on the walls, and just as comfy as at Hartsbourne, except that we women do all the manual labor ourselves.

K. is too splendid, and F. came to the front like a brick. We cook for the soldiers and the tug crew as well, if you please, and drop into bed each night exhausted but content. My feet are done up in cotton wool, but one doesn't mind. I am going to wear sabots like the peasants after this, with woolen stockings underneath.

I must have been mad not to have brought a camera. We are passing through thrillingly interesting country. A Taube is flying overhead, and one can hear the distant boom of cannon. As far as the eye can see, trenches, trenches, trenches. Funny little observation houses in the treetops, wireless poles, barbed wire entanglements, and swarms of soldiers living like half drowned rats, poor things, in a sea of mud.

They salute our flag as we pass and gaze in amazed wonder at the spectacle of women passing in these forbidden places.

An English and a French aeroplane have just gone up and put the Taube to flight. And over all the sun beneficently shining for a change, and one has to pinch one's self to realize that men are slaughtering one another like wild beasts only a few miles away. How intensely interested you and T. would be, and O how I wish you were both here for comfort and help.

I have undertaken a big job, and every one is wondering how I managed to get here. I suppose any one could have done the same if he had only worked with the same dogged persistency. As a matter of fact, I drew up my scheme in a businesslike way and put it through all the departments, and it was accepted on its merits. I have never had so much as one letter of introduction to a soul, and dealt only with strangers. They made the exception in my case only because they thought the scheme was practical and far reaching in its power for good. O but I hope the public will support me in it. I wonder if my letters in the American papers have brought any results? It takes so dreadfully long to hear.

I have a splendid cargo this time.

I give $500 a week myself to it, but this is nothing to the great need. We have hundreds and hundreds of mittens, scarfs, jerseys, woolen helmets, and stockings, and 150 tons of all kinds of food. I have forgotten to bring castor oil, worse luck, which is so urgently necessary for the half starved children.

I cannot tell you where we are, of course, for fear the censor will not pass this letter.

K. is shouting for me to send you heaps and heaps of love.

BRITISH OFFICERS ARE EAGER TO OBTAIN NEWS FROM HOME

THE AMERICAN COMMISSION FOR RELIEF IN BELGIUM, Barge Julia, between Firmigny and Adinkerque, Belgium, Feb. 12.—Dearest G.: We have just pulled in at Adinkerque, and I am scribbling this for the Belgian officer who escorted the party to take back with him to Calais, where he goes by train very soon, and he may be able to get it through to the British consul sooner than by the interminable train and censor delays.

This has been a wonderful journey up the canals. We passed through never ending fortifications and trenches, and soldiers, soldiers everywhere, who saluted the American flag. A gunboat full of English officers steamed down to meet us from Admiral Ayres' squadron. They were overjoyed to see us. It was nice to be greeted so enthusiastically, though we couldn't flatter ourselves there was anything personal in it. It was only because they hadn't spoken to a woman for over three months, and they were longing for news from home. There were several men I knew—Col. M., Commander S. and Lord de la W.

The biggest gunboat of the squadron, by the way, was lifted clean out of the water last week by a shell bursting underneath it, and dopped back again with an awful smash, and no damage was done except the smashing of everything breakable. What a wonderful escape!

Lord L., an old man of 80, has just been to see us. He has some ambulances with the Belgium field hospital at Furnes, and is out here working like a Trojan. What a splendid old man. He has just been obliged to evacuate the hospital at Furnes and install it farther back of the lines, as they were shelled a couple of days ago, and one of the nurses, an English woman, was killed. It is astonishing to realize how little one thinks of death here. It seems all a part of the terrible game.

We stopped at Dunkirk for a few hours, down with Commander Samson, Tony Wilding, and that good looking young Marix who flew 100 miles over German lines and destroyed a Zeppelin at Dusseldorf, for which he has received a "D. S. O." Wilding is in charge of the motor department of Samson's command and has seventy motors under him and ten magnificent armored cars, but now the soldiers are all "dug in" these horrible trenches, they are having a slack time.

You would laugh if you could see K., Miss C., and me scrubbing and cooking and washing and cleaning up generally from morning till night. We have no servants, and it is rather a relief to be without them—but my poor hands! Any cook in the world would be ashamed to own them. K. is splendid and speaks a little Flemish to our men. Such a nice, gentle sort of soldier men they are!

We intended to go to P. today with our ambulance jammed with all sorts of things urgently needed at the hospital there. They have no salt, flour, sugar, or matches, and little of anything else; but the heavens have opened and Niagaras are pouring down. Every place is above one's knees in water, and stakes are put at the side of the roads to show where the roads are underneath the water, so it is quite impossible to venture this journey today. We will have a go at it tomorrow.

You are helping me splendidly and I am so grateful.

It really is a miracle to have got here and every general and officer is in such a state of amazement at the feat that they can talk of nothing else. It is against every rule for a woman to be at the front, but I have got here after eight weeks of Machiavellian scheming and slavery.

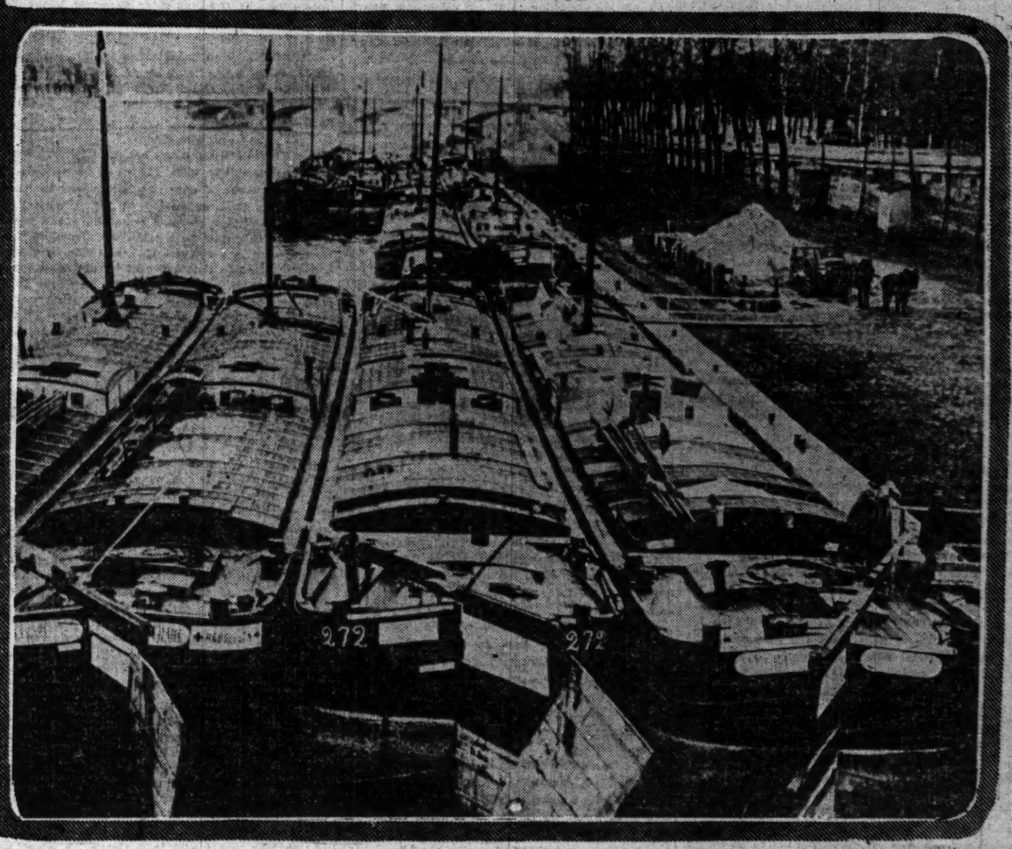

I fly the American flag defiantly, and K. and Miss C. are simply helpers in an American enterprise. At present they have taken no steps to send them back, and I think I shall be able to keep them here. All the generals admit that it is magnificent work that we are doing, but naturally war operations take no account of the suffering civilian populace. They are bundled away from the fighting line as quickly as possible, but countless thousands are left with the wrecks of their homes, and no relief funds get to their unhappy corner, and you can imagine what this help of ours means to them.

Now I am going to paddle down to the railway station and try to collect the 189 bundles of clothing that have just come for me on the train divisionaire for my poor people. England has been very good to me, and that one letter of mine in the Daily Mail brought me $3,000 in money and about $10,000 worth of food, to say nothing of warm clothing, so I am all right with this first cargo, and I am hoping I may get the next from America. If only I could be there to organize a matinée it would be easier, but it is so terribly far away. How I wish you were here.

They are bombarding Furnes again, only three miles away. O this martyred Belgium! No words can picture to you the horror and desolation everywhere. We have just been looking at shrapnel bursting in the air trying to hit some German aeroplanes, but they seldom bring one down—they fly too high.

SUPPLIES FOR VICTIMS IN HOSPITAL RUN BY COUNTESS

AMERICAN COMMISSION FOR RELIEF IN BELGIUM, Barge Julia, Feb. 21.—Dearest Little Gracie: I know you would rather have a scribble in pencil than no word at all, and as the only moment I have to write is when I am curled up in bed at night, the humble lead pencil must be pressed into service.

We are so near the front that I dare not tell you where for fear the censor will not pass my letter. I can hear the incessant roar of the guns now, and we have been on deck watching the star rockets from the trenches lighting up the sky from time to time. O, but it is ghastly to think that each one of those booming sounds may mean death to some one!

The station is filled with wounded men waiting to be entrained for hospitals farther down the line. We took coffee, soup, cigarets, etc., to them this evening—and the pitiful procession goes on day after day.

We made a long journey a couple of days ago to Poperinghe with two of the Fourth army division motors loaded with provisions and clothes to the Countess Vanderstean's hospital for typhoid (all refugees), and she is convinced that we came in answer to prayer, for she told me she had simply knelt down and prayed for help that morning, and lo, two utterly strange women turned up laden with things she needed most.

I took her 500 pounds of flour, 250 tins of milk, rice, salt, butter, coffee, and six enormous casks filled with every sort of clothing. One little girl died when we were there, and she has had twenty-five deaths in two weeks. The patients come in such an emaciated state from privation that a large percentage of them cannot be cured. She and her wonderfully devoted staff work unceasingly, but the misery is so wholesale it is impossible to cope with it.

Commander Samson of the flying division has sent me up one of the naval air service motors and an extra chauffeur for a week, so I am flying about delivering food and clothing in large quantities to the local burgomasters in the little villages, and you can imagine how glad they are to see us, even though women are not usually welcomed at the front.

The Duchess of Sutherland motored up to see me today, and was thrilled by the barge, and is now consumed with the ambition to have some barge hospitals.

We see everybody who goes to and from headquarters, and tomorrow night Prince Alexander of Teck, the Duke of Sutherland, and Col. Bridges (the uncrowned king of Belgium) are all dining on the barge. We cook the dinner, of course, and never have anything but an oilcloth table cover and paper napkins, but the food is good.

Our dining room and kitchen are all in one, but it is spotless and the gleaming pots and pans make a charming background. You must not worry any more about contributions from America. I did not realize that conditions there were so bad. Luckily English people have helped me far beyond my most hopeful anticipations.

How I should love to have a bath. We can only use a thimbleful of water at a time, of course, and that very carefully boiled. It is astonishing how soon one gets accustomed to dirt, though—the first week is awful. After that one does not mind.

Kathleen goes home Tuesday and Lady Sarah Wilson will take her place for a month—then Kathleen comes back again.

Love to Tom and your blessed self.

—Stephen Decatur.

SEC. DANIELS HAS ONLY BEGUN.

Col. George Harvey's goat is such a defenseless, helpless, innocent thing and so constantly out of the colonel's jurisdiction and care that it was a cruel and inexcusable act for Admiral Josephus Daniels, secretary of the navy, who can get any one's goat any time he wants it, to add to his collection the errant buck which scampers around in the wilderness with the colonel's temperament.

Col. Harvey, considering the case of Mr. Daniels in the current North American Review, is barely articulate although expansive. What the colonel evidently does not understand is a passion for democracy. Mr. Daniels is a perfervid Democrat in whom this passion burns with an intense and cleansing flame.

He is merely democratizing the navy, after a sort of neo-Jeffersonianism, and may, if health and continuance in authority be granted him, make it an institution of the plain people as free from caste and class as a Democratic precinct club.

He has not accomplished much yet, has merely revealed his good will. The sailors do not yet elect their officers, after direct primaries and a suitable campaign, and questions affecting the direction of ships are not determined by the initiative and referendum.

Col. Harvey ought to call home and lock up his errant buck. Josephus has hardly begun.

SCOLDING OR INVESTIGATING?

Chairman Frank P. Walsh and members of the federal industrial commission have begun inquiries in Chicago, selecting the Pullman company for the first turn of the screw. The Pullman company is all heel of Achilles, or at least is to the nape of its neck. Of the carrying corporations it can be prodded effectively in more places than any other company exposes.

No one weeps when it squirms under sharp interrogatories, and therefore when consideration is given to Mr. Walsh's methods of inquisition there is not much likelihood of the consideration being interpreted as sympathetic towards the Pullman company.

Mr. Walsh may suffer an injustice in type. The reports may lack the shade and delicacy his questions have, but what he appears to be is a scolding superior who has offending corporations on the carpet to lecture them for their sins.

We admit that even a composed man might yield to an overpowering impulse of impatience or sarcasm when confronted by such disingenuous replies as the Pullman company officials endeavored to give, but Mr. Walsh seems constantly demanding that the men he questions defend themselves for their lives. If we understand the purpose of the federal industrial commission it is to ascertain facts. The commission is not organized as a French criminal court. It is not even an American grand jury.

Nevertheless no one would be astonished if at the conclusion of one of Mr. Walsh's series of questions he abruptly announced: "Six months and $200. Call the next case."

It has been freely commented upon by persons who hoped that the commission promised accomplishment that its methods reduce that hope considerably. Even if Mr. Walsh is not to be considered magisterially, he must be regarded as having a Billy Sunday desire to see the sinners hit the sawdust trail.

Somewhat as Macaulay said of the Puritans and bear baiting, we don't mind because it gives the bear pain, but because it makes the commission foolish.

MORE REVENUE FOR SCHOOLS.

There is an economy which is waste in disguise. A man who saves money by starving himself into inefficiency is not saving but wasting. The community which starves its schools is starving itself into inefficiency. No democracy can afford to keep its tax rate down at the cost of legitimate educational opportunity for its people. Certainly if retrenchment is necessary it should reach the schools very late.

There is a strong disposition in Springfield at this time, it is said, toward economy. No doubt economy would be most acceptable to taxpayers in some directions. But the people are too sensible and self-respecting and too imbued with the American sense of the necessity of education in a democracy to desire or to tolerate a false economy at the expense of the public schools.

There is a bill now before the legislature which these truisms support. It is called the one-twenty bill and provides that the tax levy for the maintenance of the Chicago public schools shall be raised from the present rate of $1.05 per $100 of assessed valuation to $1.20 per hundred. It is estimated that this measure would increase the school revenue about a million and a quarter, although this increase would not be available for a year.

The basis of the application is to be found chiefly in the astonishing increase of attendance in the schools—over 38,000 in two years, according to Chairman Peterson of the finance committee. This of course has meant more schoolrooms, more teachers, more janitor service, care, and equipment.

Besides this some overdue advances in the salaries of teachers and some increases for increased work were justifiably allowed. Other minor factors entered into the deficiency, but need not be discussed here. The fact to be considered is that Chicago schools are growing rapidly and urgently need proportionate increase of revenue.

This need is emphasized by a comparison of the school expenditures of this the second city of the United States with those of other cities. It is not gratifying to our civic intelligence that Chicago is found to stand thirty-fourth in such a scale. Here is the record of per capita expenditure:

Los Angeles	$8.66	Cambridge	$5.14
Boston	6.78	Buffalo	5.14
Salt Lake City	6.71	Seattle	5.06
New York City	6.68	Jersey City	5.05
Washington	6.56	New Haven	5.03
Newark, N. J.	6.48	Omaha	4.99
Pittsburgh	6.26	Trenton	4.85
Hartford	6.26	Portland	4.73
Worcester, Mass.	5.90	Columbus	4.71
Oakland, Cal.	5.74	St. Louis	4.69
Denver	5.72	Cleveland	4.68
Kansas City	5.58	Milwaukee	4.59
Minneapolis	5.50	Indianapolis	4.51
Syracuse	5.42	Providence	4.50
Spokane	5.41	Rochester	4.49
Cincinnati	5.26	Scranton	4.49
Grand Rapids	5.21	CHICAGO	4.44

No community needs the best type of American schools more than Chicago. This is too obvious to require discussion, and it is hoped the legislature will not fail to grant the relief sought.

THE MAYOR ELECT AND HIS PROSPECTS.

The day after the primary election no provident politician would have given an old fashioned 2 cent piece for the chances of the Republican candidate opposed to Robert M. Sweitzer, the Democratic nominee. Between then and Tuesday of this week something happened, and persons to whom political post-mortems are interesting are trying to find out what the something was.

Occasionally Chicago in its elections of purely local significance goes Republican, but the margin of votes by which it does is small. In this election there was an increased electorate, owing to the woman vote, but that is an insufficient and obviously incomplete explanation of the astonishing plurality gained by Mr. Thompson.

If the successful candidate's plurality had been small two or three explanations of local importance might have been sufficient for the case, but they do not serve to illuminate a plurality of 139,000 votes. For that reason the purpose of the voters is sought further, and the safest conclusion is that a reaction against a Democratic national administration has been given expression.

It has been a hard and distressing winter in these parts, and a man out of a job is likely to be a man out of patience and a man out of patience is anti whatever is established if he can find any blame for his condition attaching to it. He does not search far for proof of responsibility. He takes a chance that government is accountable for his misfortunes and the further chance that a change of government will help him.

It is useless to tell him that national governments have no relation to municipal affairs. The labels are common to both city and national parties and that is enough, and, furthermore, it is true that an election such as that in Chicago Tuesday has a national effect.

Mr. Thompson appeared on the impatient voter's horizon bulging and shining like a full dinner pail and ringing like the dinner gong. The voter went back to his pork chops. Every so often in our political endeavors we must have reform, clear eyed and precise, and every so often we take the shortest cut to the flesh pots saddened by experience and sickened for comforts. Thus we maintain an average of not being too good too long and not being too bad too often.

A bad winter preceding the April elections in municipalities always is a bad omen for Jeffersonians, and this has proved the case even for the dominatingly popular Mr. Sweitzer, who could have issued bonds on his prospects in March and who is politically bankrupt in April.

Mayor Elect Thompson, beneficiary of so much barely expected good fortune, has, after the fashion of mayors elect, issued a prospectus of his purpose and it has fair seeming. We have been beguiled by words before and fascinated by sound. The things that a mayor elect is bound by duty to say are formulized. Each such important personage comes upon the scene as a paladin and error shrinks as he trumpets.

In praiseworthy utterance Mr. Thompson has predecessors running back to that time when a newly incorporated Chicago installed its first mayor. We suspect that a man who has come successfully over the grill of a contest for the office of mayor has sublimated emotions which subsequently are modified by the practical considerations which insert themselves into his mind.

We have an idea that he is exhilarated by victory and conscious of responsibility to the many good folk who have reposed their confidence in him. Thus, free from dross, he speaks. Later the quite ordinary needs of office and of human dealings come up conspicuously and the exhilaration subsides.

Nevertheless, we have what might be called a sort of an idea that Mr. Thompson intends to put vigor and energy into a program of getting things done. The limitations in the way of really substantial accomplishment are so great in this city that it requires not merely a well intentioned but a desperately well intentioned mayor to do anything. It is not sufficient that he merely have good purpose. He may sit back in his swivel chair and put his feet on his desk, yielding to the difficulties of the situation and continue to have good purposes.

If Mr. Thompson, now speaking fairly, has got it in him to fight like a football player on his own four yard line, he may make good what he now says. It takes a power of muscle, grit, and endurance to make words count in this town. Mr. Thompson has said the words. We hope he has the power back of them.

Editorial of the Day.

SHAW IN THE TOWER.

[From the New Republic.]

Now that Bernard Shaw has suffered the editorial condemnation of the New York Times, the eternal parlor discussion as to his sincerity has risen to eloquent fervor. The fact that he has not been lynched for his "Common Sense About the War" is the greatest proof, says the Times, of the contempt in which Englishmen hold him. Mr. Alfred Noyes suggests putting him in the Tower. The suggestion smacks of English futility in the face of satire. Shaw's grin in the Tower would be a Gargantuan and symbolic spectacle, to dissolve the boredom of many generations when they consider the early twentieth century.

NO NICE EDITOR WOULD.

A young woman in the journalism class at K. U. was asked how she would go about it to get the news of a fire in a distant part of town, late at night, after the street cars had stopped running. "Well," she replied, "I suppose I'd have to call a taxi and go to the thing, but personally I don't think any editor who is a gentleman would make a girl go to a fire at such a time in the night."—Kansas City Star.

UN LETTRÉ.

FROM Mr. Thompson's proclamation yesterday morning it is gratifyingly apparent that it will not be necessary to bring Mr. Billy Sunday to Chicago. The lily will not require a second coat of No. 1 white.

TO the amiable Mr. Sweitzer we extend conventional commiserations, with the hope that his amiability will, if temporarily dispersed, be speedily restored. The Hon. Bob was ever a good sport.

GREETINGS and salutations to Mr. Stedman, who saved a large lump of fat from the fires of patriotism and spiritual passion. It gave us much pleasure to vote for Mr. Stedman, partly because he "hadn't a chance."

The Moon.

Sir: Please tell me what, besides Michigan avenue, has only one side. M. I.

WE can think of only one better way to "reduce" than that suggested by Dr. Evans—"to rise to the sitting position from the prone position." As this may be a trifle too strenuous for the majority, we suggest that you rise from the prone position to that assumed by the measuring worm. This will lend variety to exercises that most persons find tedious. As a measuring worm you may traverse all of the rooms in your house, upstairs, downstairs, and in my lady's chamber; and if other members of the family are engaged in reducing, contests of speed, endurance, and accuracy in measuring may be introduced.

IF Mr. Wilson will pay a visit to the Cannery he will find in the left wing, on Shelf Q, a jar labeled "The Handwriting on the Wall." This will remind him that March 4, 1917, will be moving day in the White House.

We Have No Influence with the Proofroom.

Sir: Doesn't the composing room fetish, the style book, forbid the use of "very" as a qualifying word? If so, will you not insist on the esteemed proofroom extending the inhibition to the Right Off the Reel page? Even if disguised, the comma chasers should have no trouble in apprehending and smothering the villainy perpetrated so numerously each Sunday. Thank you, vurr', vurr' much. H. L. B.

WE have waited several days for somebody to express surprise at the statement by Martin Schutze to Vox Pop that Sir Edward Grey falsified dates in his White Book, in order to deceive the world—a statement based upon "an unbiased documentary study" by James Westfall Thompson of the University of Chicago. Is the statement so preposterous as not to invite reply? Or must we assume that character counts for nothing in this world and that the years spent by Sir Edward Grey in building his character were of no avail against the charge referred to? Personally, we should as quickly believe that Lloyd-George had broken into his neighbor's house and made off with the silverware.

CONSUMPTION AND TRAVEL.

SOUTHERN California, in common with other sections reputed to have good climates for consumptives, complains of the burden of caring for indigent consumptives who belong in other sections. Dr. Carrington of the pulic health service, after careful inquiry, says that the complaint is not well founded. It is true that the Californians are compelled to care for large numbers of poor helpless consumptives; that their hospitals and their private charities are borne down by the burden, and that these late consumptives infect some of the natives.

However, the good that they have received from consumptives who have settled among them is more than an offset. He says that the bearing on the social and economic status of southern California has been beneficial.

The chief sufferer has been the consumptive himself. The advanced consumptive without means who goes to a climate resort loses whatever chance he had of getting well.

Many people will be interested in Dr. Carrington's conclusion as to the dangers to the ordinary traveler on the lines frequented by consumptives. Dr. Carrington investigated conditions on a railroad running west, and especially on the sleeping cars. It is his judgment that all necessary precautions are taken and that fellow travelers are not in danger.

Between 2,000 and 4,000 consumptives go into southern California every year. The number is decreasing because of the increase in hospitals and sanitaria throughout the country and also because people are learning that none except those with money gains from seeking the climate cure. There are about 20,000 consumptives in southern California. Of these about 1,200 are natives. The remainder are classed as migratory—they are in the state looking for cure.

Consumption does develop among the people who live in and throughout their lives have lived in the resort states. There are some who contend to the contrary. In 1913, 2,334 deaths from consumption were recorded in southern California. Four-hundred and twenty-four of these patients had been in the state less than a year.

An inquiry was made to discover the effect of the journey on consumptives. Sleeping car conductors, reporting on one-hundred and ninety-five cases carried in cars under their control, said that some died; some were made worse, some better; but that it did not appear to affect the fairly strong, patients one way or the other.

Another study of four hundred and fifty migratory consumptives showed that seventy-two were improved by the journey west, seventy-four were made worse, and two hundred and sixty-one were not affected one way or the other.

GIRL LOSING COLOR.

A. M. M. writes: "I am a girl 18 years of age, have always been well developed, and never sick a day in my life, barring an occasional headache. Prior to about three years ago I had unusually good color in my cheeks and was subject to nose bleed at least once every two weeks, and menstruation was regular. Since then I have been employed in an office and have noticed a gradual disappearance of color in my cheeks and menstruation is delayed. I have no lack of appetite and suffer no ill effects and weigh 124 pounds, the normal weight for my height, 5 feet 4 inches. My father succumbed to anaemia and a brother of my mother's to tuberculosis, both seemingly stricken down in perfect health. Is it possible that either of these diseases will fall to me? Is it possible to inherit anaemia?"

REPLY.

A poor resistance to tuberculosis can be inherited. There is no proof that pernicious anaemia can be inherited. Evidently you do not bear up well under indoor work. You should exercise in the open air, eat abundantly of milk, bread, meat, green vegetables, and fruit and set aside plenty of time for sleep.

CHEW FOOD THOROUGHLY.

W. I. S. writes: "I am 58 years old. I am afflicted with hardening of the arteries and high blood pressure. My head is much affected. Years ago I had a severe sunstroke and have had vertigo. I have great pressure in the head. Please give me your advice."

REPLY.

You cannot do much to lower your blood pressure, but you can do something to relieve the vertigo and the pressure in your head. Chew your food very thoroughly. You should consume several times as much time in masticating your food as when you were younger. To relieve your constipation try Russian oil. You will feel better when the weather gets warmer and more of your blood is in your skin. On the other hand, when the weather gets hot keep out of the sun. People who have had sunstroke are oversusceptible to hot sunlight for the remainder of their lives.

CAN DO WITHOUT CERTAIN FOODS.

G. P. W. writes: "I like peas, corn, baked beans, peanuts, and popcorn, but they distress me. Is there any remedy?"

REPLY.

Evidently you do not digest starch very well. By chewing these foods with excessive thoroughness, according to the Fletcher plan, you may be able to digest and absorb them before they are attacked in the intestines by fermenting organisms. You can do without these foods very well. You can substitute fats and sweets or some other starchy foods.

REPLY TO C. M. L.

The chance is that you are right, though you gain nothing by worrying. This condition can be cured. It should be attended to now.

REPLY TO M. A. H.

The discharge is not due to cancer. You probably have eczema. Cleanliness and systematic care will cure the disorder.

EX-PREMIER VON KOERBER, who has just been appointed by Emperor Francis Joseph to supersede M. von Bilinski as minister of finance for Austria and Hungary, belongs by birth to the middle classes and was born at Trieste some 65 years ago, the son of an infantry major.

As soon as he had graduated from the Vienna university he became a clerk in the department of commerce and worked his way up to the chieftaincy of the bureau. When in the early '90s it was decided to found a new division in the department for work in connection with the treaties of commerce he was appointed as its organizer.

In 1895 he succeeded Herr von Bilinski as head of the state railroad department, which post he retained until Premier Count Badeni, in sore need of strong lieutenants, caused him to be appointed minister of the interior.

This brought him into contact with the emperor, and so pleased was the sovereign by what he saw of him in the stormy days of the Count Thun administration that he raised him to the Austrian house of lords, created him a noble, and insisted on his being retained in office in the subsequent cabinets of Baron Gautsch and of Count Clary.

In 1900, when he was intrusted with the premiership, Herr von Koerber was still spoken of by his foes as merely a glorified civil service clerk. But he showed himself not only extremely sensible but also quite masterful, and it is no exaggeration to state that during his premiership there was more accomplished in the way of the development of industry, in the construction of canals and railroads, and in the fostering of the economic welfare and prosperity of Austria than during any other administration before or since.

"Bolshoi Nikolai" is the nickname by which the Grand Duke Nicholas is known by the rank and file of the huge Russian army. It means "Big Nicholas," and he well deserves the sobriquet. No portrayal of him that I have yet seen gives any idea of his colossal stature, which amounts to 6 feet 8 inches. He looks even taller than he really is by reason of his spare, lean figure, and he has retained a wonderful amount of elasticity for his 59 years.

Unlike his countrymen, he is extremely impassive and unemotional, reticent of speech, and reserved in manner. It is difficult to gather from the expression of his face what is passing in his thoughts. He occasionally smiles, but his laugh is rare.

He does not drink anything but water, although he allows the members of his staff to drink light white and red wines at his table. But it is to him that must be ascribed the emperor's promulgation of the ukase putting an end to the sale of spirits throughout the empire, a decree that has had the effect of converting the most heavily drinking nation in the world into the one that is the most abstinent.

Shortly after the war broke out an act of parliament was passed in England investing judges with the power to stay indefinitely the execution of judgments against debtors, when inability to pay was due to circumstances attributable directly or indirectly to the war.

Lord Grantley's eldest son, who is half an American, has just benefited by this legislation. He was badly wounded while fighting at the front as a lieutenant of the Scots guards in the early stages of the conflict, and now on the high road to recovery after four months spent in the hospital is about to rejoin his regiment in France.

Some time ago a money lender brought suit against him and obtained a judgment for the amount actually lent, though not for the interest, the judge at the same time ordering a stay of execution of the judgment.

He did this on the ground that young Richard Brinsley Norton was suffering from wounds, that he had already mortgaged all his reversionary interests in the entailed estates of his father, Lord Grantley, and that he had no means of his own beyond his pay as a subaltern of the guards, nor any means of raising money save by insuring his life, which it was impossible for him to do while still wounded and under orders to rejoin his regiment at the front as soon as he had recovered.

The money lender carried his case to the Court of Appeal, which decided against him and in favor of young Norton.

The officer is through his mother a grandson of the late Commodore W. H. McVicker of the New York Yacht club. Prior to becoming the wife of Lord Grantley she was married to his uncle, Major the Hon. Charles Brinsley Norton, at the time the next heir to his nephew's peerage. Aunt and nephew ended by eloping with each other

On the day after Mrs. Charles Norton's divorce became absolute she married Lord Grantley. Twelve years later she presented her husband with a son and heir—namely: young Lieut. Richard Brinsley Norton of the Scots guards, whose appearance in the world destroyed the prospects of Maj. Norton's succeeding to the peerage of his nephew, who had thus deprived him not only of his wife but of his chances of inheriting the title and the estates.

The future Lord Grantley was in November last announced as about to marry Miss Maggie Jarvis, a pretty Gaiety girl, who was playing at the time under the direction of George Edwardes in "Gipsy Love" in London. But the match has not, I believe, thus far materialised.

He has inherited the good looks of his family and is descended from Richard Norton, sheriff of Northumberland in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. The first Lord Grantley was speaker of the house of commons during the early days of the reign of George III. A sister of the future Lord Grantley is the Hon. Eleanor Norton, who seems to have inherited the literary gifts of her great-grandmother, the celebrated Mrs. George Norton, the beautiful and brilliant granddaughter of Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

Mrs. George Norton was the heroine of the romance of Lord Melbourne's life (that Lord Melbourne who was the first prime minister and mentor of Queen Victoria), and she is portrayed under a most transparent pseudonym in George Meredith's novel, "Diana of the Crossways."

George Norton brought a suit for divorce against his wife, naming Lord Melbourne. But he was defeated, and Mrs. Norton's name was cleared. She died as the wife of the late Sir William Stirling Maxwell, Bart. and knight of the Order of the Thistle.

The present Lord Grantley lost his American wife, née McVicker, several years ago and has since married again, the present Lady Grantley being a natural daughter of the last Viscount Ranelagh.

Like Lord Grantley's first wife, she was a divorcée, her former husband having been Clement M. Le Breton, the lawyer brother of Lady de Bathe, better known on the stage as Mrs. Langtry.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

WIDOWS' SONS AND EDUCATION.

Urbana, Ill., April 5.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—For the sake of the widows and the fatherless whose protection is commanded in the word of God I am impelled to recall the attention of your readers to the statement reported in your paper a few days ago as given by Thomas A. Clark, dean of men at Illinois university, before the Parents' club of Austin High school, in which he placed the "widow's son" at the head of the list as a "failure."

I think I voice the feeling of every widowed mother when I say we need no university record to make clear to us that there is some influence which a mother cannot replace lost out of a boy's life when he loses his father, and unless it can be restored to him through his education it will always be lacking in his expression of life.

Many of us hope that our sons may find at the state university through the masculine influence of instructors and the association with efficient men the direction and inspiration needed which have been denied them by the death of a father.

Since Dean Clark recognizes the need of the "widow's son," cannot the capable servants of the state of Illinois find and apply the remedy to aid widows' sons to be more efficient men instead of discouraging them by proclaiming their failures at the beginning of their college career?

Shall not the state of Illinois find a way to be a father to the fatherless instead of eliminating these sons from our state university because their need is greater than the boys who have been privileged to live under a father's influence?

For the encouragement of the widow who may be hoping for reparation to the son through his education at the university for his being a "widow's son," I wish to say after several years' residence at the university center I have learned that notwithstanding no special help is given them, all widows' sons are not failures, neither are all the failures at the university widows' sons. A WIDOW.

HE SAID WE WOULDN'T PRINT THIS.

Chicago, April 6.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Mr. George A. Meyer, admitting the soundness of my contention, still insists that "careful consideration" upon the part of the majority would change its opinion on the question of prohibition.

The human race has been considering this question "carefully" for thousands of years. When Mr. Meyer states that all "physicians, employers, and business men" are of like mind with him, he states something that is positively untrue. There are infinitely more "physicians, employers, and business men" who preach and practice temperance than there are who embrace the prohibition theory.

Mr. Meyer has again demonstrated that a prohibition argument consists of equal parts of assumption, assertion, and imagination. If the Prohibitionists have any case, why don't they tell us what it is? I, for one, am getting weary of replying to pills. J. H. SARROAD.

ITALY MUST DECIDE.

Chicago, April 7.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Strange to say, THE TRIBUNE, with all the space it devotes to Italy's position in the great war, has never yet pronounced the one word that tells the naked truth about what that country is on the point of doing. The Italian mob (educated as well as uneducated) has in its fury forgotten it. Is "neutral" America too blind to see it, or too timid to say it? Let the Italian nation in general commit itself with the well known lawyer's trick as to what is a defensive and what an aggressive war to excuse their breaking away from their allies when the war started. Fair minded men on the neutral as well as on both warring sides will give Italy on this point at least the benefit of the doubt when the peculiar geographical configuration of the country is considered.

But, and here is the rub: Is Italy not at the more bound, from a moral point of view, to the friendliest sort of neutrality towards her allies? Why all this trumped-up rehashing of alleged Austrian outrages which had not been brought up for thirty-three years—had not prevented the closing and the renewal of the triple alliance, the last time in 1912, in the very midst of the Balkan confusion?

But let us hope for Italy. She still has a king who shirks the tremendous responsibility that the frenzied and irresponsible mob is trying to make him assume. She still has a determined minority of intellectual leaders who will not let their country suffer moral perdition and expose her at the same time to the terrible retribution for such a felony that would follow as surely as night follows day at the hands of Germany before two decades would be gone. The Italian peace party has undoubtedly been strengthened by the manly example of the king of Greece and by the erstwhile success, in as much as by the later failure of the allies at the Dardanelles. If Italy could not take upon herself the sacrifices necessary in standing by her allies, of helping Austria crush Serbian insolence, and thereby pave the way to a rectification of the Austro-Italian border; if she has foregone the chance of becoming what nature has made her to be, the paramount power of the Mediterranean, she still can do better even now than cast all honor to the winds and at the same time become a tiny satellite of the planet France, which, in turn, encircles the British sun, which sun, in turn, revolves around the center of gravity of the constellation of nations and countries represented by Ivan Iskor Russia?, the would-be mistress of the world. M. L. ROTHSCHILD AND AIDS TAKE A LORIMER BANK

Illinois State Depository Now Controlled by Business Men's Syndicate.

Control of the Illinois State Bank of Chicago slipped from the Lorimer-Munday ring to a syndicate of prominent business men headed by Maurice L. Rothschild, in a deal concluded yesterday before Judge Foell in the Superior court, who signed two decrees embodying the following provisions:

William Lorimer Jr. released his title to 970 shares of the bank stock to the Chicago Title and Trust company, receiver for the Rosehill Cemetery company.

Franks Releases Lien.

Abraham J. Franks, to whom Lorimer Jr. had given the bank stock and some securities of the perpetual care fund of the Rosehill cemetery as collateral for a $100,000 loan, released his lien on the collateral to the receiver for the cemetery.

In return the receiver admitted that Franks had come into possession of the cemetery securities as an innocent third person and dismissed the suit of the Rosehill cemetery against Franks, William Lorimer, and William Lorimer Jr. He released Franks, both Lorimers, the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, and William C. Niblack, its receiver, of all liability arising from the bank's acts in connection with the perpetual fund, and paid Franks $59,285.18, the balance due on the $100,000 note given him by Lorimer.

Stock to Levy.

The receiver immediately sold the bank stock for $9,700 to Emile Levy, as trustee for a syndicate headed by Mr. Rothschild, Alfred Decker of Alfred Decker & Cohn, clothiers; Virgil C. Webster, and Mr. Levy.

The Illinois State bank is one of the chain closed last June following the collapse of the Lorimer-Munday syndicate.

U. S. RAIDERS TRAP FIVE ON CHARGES OF MAKING COINS

Girl, Woman, and 3 Men; Spurious Money and Tools Found.

Federal secret service agents yesterday arrested a girl, a woman, and three men charged with being members of a counterfeit gang. Raids were made on the saloon of Stanley J. Czerwiec at 2254 Nineteenth street and the residence of Joseph Wilk at 4610 Honore street by Operatives Drautzburg and Bratton. They said they obtained spurious coins and a number of tools and molds of counterfeiters.

Those arrested were Stanley J. Czerwiec and his brother, Thomas, Joseph Wilk and his wife, Barbara, and his daughter, Sophie, who is 10 years old.

Find Poles Drilling.

The federal agents entered a hall above the saloon and found thirty-five Poles armed with rifles. They were drilling preparatory to returning to their native land for enlistment.

"About the basement walls and floor was spattered a quantity of lead, evidently spilled in making counterfeits," said Drautzberg. "Stacked in a corner was enough plaster of paris to make a million molds. We went to a barn at 2248 West Nineteenth street and found a number of molds for coins from a nickel to $10 in gold. At the Wilk house we found several spurious dollars and half dollars."

Think Girl Passed Coins.

The government agents suspect Sophie Wilk was sent to the stores to pass bogus coins. United States Commissioner Mason held Wilk and his family in $2,000 bonds each. The bonds of Czerwiec and his brother were fixed at $5,000.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—President Wilson today yielded to the request of Secretary of State Bryan and appointed "Aunt Molly" Webster postmaster at Salem, Ill. In doing so the president went over the protest of Congressman Foster of the Twenty-third district, who opposed the appointment because of Mrs. Webster's age.

Secretary Bryan was born at Salem. For months he has been trying to have "Aunt Molly," who is an old friend of his family, named postmaster.

The president also gave a recess appointment to Elmer Lummis, who failed of confirmation for postmaster at Quincy during the last congress. Other middle western appointments made today follow:

Michigan—James O. La Berge, East Tawas.

10 Minutes

It's not a long time. Yet they say it won for Wellington the Battle of Waterloo.

Time means a great deal to men nowadays, if saved at an opportune moment.

It's a long way from home to most men's offices—and it is a longer distance back in the evening.

It is one of the drudges of metropolitan life. The wearisome journey seems worth while to get away from the city's turmoil.

But it's a big price to pay and it is not necessary. Ten minutes will take you from the business center to a peaceful home on the lake side, surrounded by fresh air and blue sky and wooded parks.

Come out sometime soon, just ten minutes' ride, and see what we give you in home comfort.

MARKHAM CITES "LABOR'S FOLLY" IN I. C. STRIKE

Illinois Central President Gives It as Example of Union Unwisdom.

The big strike of shop employés on the Illinois Central and the Harriman lines four years ago formed the subject of testimony at yesterday's session of the federal industrial relations commission at the Hotel Sherman.

Charles H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central, who fought the strike successfully and prevented the formation of a "system federation" of the road's shop employés, was the chief witness. He said the strike involved 9,000 men from Chicago to New Orleans and that the trouble cost the road "millions of dollars."

Chairman Frank P. Walsh switched the inquiry suddenly from the Pullman company to the Illinois Central strike situation after failing to get a response to a call for President Runnells of the Pullman company and Robert T. Lincoln, chairman of the board of directors.

Both Under Subpoena.

Both officials are under subpoena. Mr. Walsh received word that President Runnells is ill at Atlantic City and that it would be inconvenient for Mr. Lincoln to come to Chicago from Washington before Saturday. As a result the Pullman inquiry was postponed until next Saturday.

J. Ogden Armour also is under subpoena to testify regarding conditions of employment at the stockyards, in the packing business generally and in other Armour industries.

President Markham occupied the witness stand most of the day. He read into the record a detailed history of the strike from its inception in September, 1911.

Markham's Testimony Convincing.

He answered all questions in a plain, straightforward manner and never employed evasive tactics. Even in a lively row with Commissioner A. B. Garretson he answered a volley of hypothetical questions in a manner convincing to the commission and the big audience.

"The strike of 1911 was as ill advised and inopportune as it was unexpected," Mr. Markham's statement read. "It grew out of no real or substantial grievance."

The witness explained that the company refused to recognize the system federation because contracts were in force with individual unions and no thirty days' notice was given, as was required in the agreements, that it was desired to terminate the existing contracts.

Mr. O'Connell's Position.

An interesting feature of the inquiry and Mr. Markham's testimony was the attention called to the position taken by James O'Connell, now a member of the commission but at that time president of the International Association of Machinists. The machinists were involved in the strike against the advice of Mr. O'Connell. Technically the strike is still on.

"Lately, however, I have heard little of it," was President Markham's comment. "Aside from the failure to give thirty days' notice, candor forces me to say that the management of the Illinois Central is upon principle opposed to the system federation idea."

Against Labor Control.

"Is it a fact that at the time the strike was called thirty-one railroads were dealing with federated trades and that there now are fifty-two railroads which so deal with them?" Chairman Walsh asked.

"I don't know," Mr. Markham said. "May I say that if that be true they'll be sorry for it? The federations will gain control of the railroads and through them the commerce of the country.

"That is too much power to place in the hands of labor leaders. Power unwisely used is as bad in the hands of labor leaders as in the hands of capitalists.

The witness explained that immediately prior to the strike the road raised the wages of its employés more than $1,000,000 a year.

DRYS TO RENEW FIGHT ON RUM

Local Option Elections Will Be Held in 26 Cities and Towns on April 20.

SALOON FOES JUBILANT.

Encouraged by the success of their efforts in elections held Tuesday, the "dry" forces in Illinois yesterday turned their attention to the campaigns in twenty-six cities and towns in which the local option question will be settled on April 20. Tuesday's election eliminated about 150 saloons in Illinois. It is estimated the election in two weeks may abolish 100 more saloons.

The vote on April 20 may pave the way for breaking into the solid "wet" counties in the southern end of the state. The fight in this campaign will be preparation for the general fight to place the whole state in the "dry" side in 1916, according to officials of the "dry" organization.

Cities to Vote on April 20.

The cities and towns in which the liquor question will be decided at the coming election are:

City.	County.	City.	County.
River Forest	Cook	Cullom	Livingston
Oak Park	Cook	Troy	Madison
Elmhurst	Du Page	Henry	Marshall
Naperville	Du Page	Bath	Mason
Lombard	Du Page	Havana	Mason
W. Chicago	Du Page	Litchfield	Montgomery
Beardstown	Cass	Mounds	Pulaski
Gardner	Grundy	Andalusia	Rk. Island
Morris	Grundy	Auburn	Sangamon
Warsaw	Hancock	Lebanon	St. Clair
Atkinson	Henry	Dupo	St. Clair
Ottawa	La Salle	Georgetown	Vermilion
Dixon	Lee	Wilmington	Will

All of the above towns are now "wet," with the exception of Oak Park and Georgetown.

Ottawa will have a hot fight. Lee O'Neil Browne and other La Salle county politicians have fought local option successfully, but F. Scott McBride, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, announced yesterday he has hopes of winning the election there.

Other large towns in the state where the local option issue will bring close fights are Dixon and Beardstown.

Drys Gain in Wisconsin.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—[Special.]—The "drys" lost one of their announced big gains late today when Superior, the second city in size in the state, announced "dry" last night, on final count was discovered to be "wet" by ten majority. The "drys," however, today's figures showed, had gained Whitewater, a city of 3,500 population, home of the second oldest normal school in the state.

STATUE OF GEN. SHERIDAN POOR LIKENESS, WIDOW SAYS

She Protests to Gov. Whitman Against Erection of Memorial in Albany—Committee Satisfied.

Albany, N. Y., April 7.—Mrs. Philip H. Sheridan, widow of Gen. Sheridan, in a letter today protested to Gov. Whitman against the model to be used for a memorial to the civil war hero, to be erected here. The memorial, now under construction, will cost $30,000.

Mrs. Sheridan declared that the statue did not bear any resemblance to her husband, and asked that it not be erected. Gov. Whitman turned the protest over to the committee which has the erection of the memorial in charge.

Edward B. Cantine, a member of that committee, asserted that the work would be continued, and the protest disregarded. The statue had been selected by a committee of artists and had been pronounced to be an excellent likeness of Gen. Sheridan.

DEFEAT TO EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Hartford, Conn., April 7.—A proposed constitutional amendment giving women the right of suffrage was rejected by the Connecticut house of representatives today, 124 to 106. This ends the movement for equal suffrage in the present general assembly.

SIGNS WOMAN PENSION BILL.

Albany, N. Y., April 7.—The bill intended to provide pensions for needy widowed mothers, passed by the present legislature, was signed today by Gov. Whitman.

POLICE SEEK WIFE OF MAN DISCOVERED DEAD.

Chas. Gregor, Found in Tenement, Said to Have Been Dead for Day or Two—Mrs. Gregor Missing.

The police last night began an extensive search for Mrs. Anna Gregor, whose husband's body was found in a dingy third floor back tenement at 1951 Larrabee street yesterday. Charles Gregor had been dead a day or so.

Detective Sergeant Bernard Facklin said he had no reason to believe Gregor died from other than natural causes, but the coroner will examine the body today. He had tuberculosis. The absence of Mrs. Gregor, who earned the living as a photographer's solicitor and cared for her invalid husband, however, was not altogether explained. She had not been seen since Monday.

Out of town work, however, sometimes kept her away several days at a time.

SHOOP BOOST WITHOUT PAY.

Voted Vocational Head of Schools, but Salary Is Not Mentioned.

If John D. Shoop desires to accept the position of superintendent of vocational education, which some of the members of the board say has been offered to him by the board, he may have to accept it without remuneration. Michael J. Collins, president of the board, said yesterday there is no provision for salary in the resolution which some say the board passed at its last meeting.

Girl Held as Perjurer.

A report was current on the north side yesterday that a true bill had been voted against Anna Curry, held to the grand jury by Judge Petit on a charge of perjury, an outgrowth of the disappearance of Albert Vasey. It is expected an indictment will be returned within a few days.

The Beaufort

(By the House of Kuppenheimer)

RIGHT-O! BEAUFORT is the name of that new Kuppenheimer Model the young men are all talking about.

Note the original collar and lapel, the natural shoulders innocent of padding; the shaped body with military high waist effect; the five button waistcoat worn with the top button open.

This is one of the most popular models ever produced for young men. It doesn't take them long to know when a suit strikes the right note, registers all the new style essentials—and has the effect they are after.

Young men know what they want and who is producing it. They saw in the work of this House as early as last season the first hint of the new military styles—which tells them plainly enough where to look for these fashions this Spring.

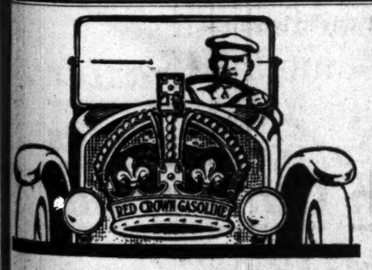

It is this knack of design, quite as much as the nicety of fit and tailoring, that young men recognize in the BEAUFORT, that makes them strong for Kuppenheimer Styles and go out of their way if necessary to find them.

Prices—$20 to $40

MAYOR ELECT THOMPSON FAVORS BOXING IN CHICAGO

BOOSTS GAME, BUT WILL LET STATE DECIDE

Indicates He Will Abide by Ruling on Bills at Springfield.

BY RAY C. PEARSON.

Boxing fans of Chicago need have no fear that Mayor-Elect William Hale Thompson is not in favor of their sport, for the successor to Carter H. Harrison last night expressed views making it perfectly evident that he would like to see boxing in Chicago and Illinois if the sport is properly regulated and properly conducted.

"I have said before that I am strong for all clean athletic sports, and that includes boxing," said the mayor-elect. "Any sport in which training is necessary makes a good contest and an interesting one. A bout between two equally matched and well trained athletes in the ring eliminates the chance of injury and provides competition of the right kind. Bouts in which the contestants are not in condition or not evenly matched are not the right sort and should not be allowed."

State Law to Govern.

The next chief executive of the city did not answer a direct interrogation as to whether there would be boxing in Chicago if the measure now in committee at Springfield and nearly ready to go to the house for passage meets with defeat, but he indicated plainly enough that he was in favor of legalized sport. From the trend of his remarks, it is evident he intends to allow the state lawmakers to settle the question of whether Chicago is to have glove sport.

When his attention was called to the fact that six round bouts were held in Chicago some years ago under the same state law that exists at the present time, Thompson said: "Yes, I remember; but I believe that it was simply a case of going ahead and breaking the law."

Thompson a Real Fan.

Anyone who thinks that the mayor-elect isn't familiar with the boxing game has another guess coming. The fans who have been traveling to Milwaukee and other Wisconsin towns to see bouts in the last couple of years often have had for company a man they called "Big Bill." And at the ringside "Big Bill" has been just as interested in the battles of the boxers as any other fan.

"Boxing in Chicago would be great if we could have it governed by laws such as prevail in Milwaukee," he added. "In the bouts there men are not allowed to box when there is a difference of more than ten pounds in their weight, and this prevents uneven matches."

A talk with William Hale Thompson leads one to believe that he would like nothing better than to sit at a Chicago ringside.

Gilmore to Fight Daniels.

Freddie Gilmore, the local welterweight who has been hankering for a match for a long time, finally has found someone who is willing to battle him. Doc Krone, Gilmore's manager, last night announced the gladsome news that his protégé would battle in Saginaw, Mich., on Friday night, his opponent being Dave Daniels. They will box ten rounds, if something in the way of a knockout isn't sprung, and the weight will be 147 pounds at 3 o'clock.

JOE CHIP BESTS MURPHY IN FIFTEEN ROUND BOUT.

Dayton, O., April 7.—[Special.]—Tommy Murphy of Chicago lost the decision to Joe Chip of Newcastle, Pa., in a fifteen round bout tonight. Murphy showed superior ring generalship, his defense and clever leading giving him the better of the early rounds. A shower of body blows in the tenth round took the starch out of Murphy, and from that time on the fight was all Chip's. In the semi-windup Andy Howell of Dayton and Abe Kabakoff of Columbus went ten rounds to a draw.

JAMES DUNN, EX-FIGHTER, DIES IN BROOKLYN HOME.

New York, April 7.—James Dunn, who claimed the heavyweight title won by Jess Willard Monday, when bare knuckles were in vogue, is dead at his home in Brooklyn today.

Dunn defeated Bill Davis, then champion heavyweight of the world, in a grueling forty-three round battle in the open air in Pike county, Pennsylvania, in 1865. He retired two years later without being beaten.

CUEIST MAYER TO TURN PRO.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 7.—Joseph Mayer, who recently won the amateur national billiard championship at the tournament held in this city, announced today that he will become a professional player. His first match will be a six days' contest against Albert G. Cutler in New York. Previous to joining the professional ranks Mayer will play his last amateur match with Edward W. Gardner, last year's champion, at the Arion club, New York, next Friday night.

Helm Takes One Match.

Kansas City, Mo., April 7.—E. F. Helm of Cleveland tonight defeated Tiff Denton of Kansas City, 50 to 44, in a ninety-one inning interstate Three Cushion Billiard league match.

McCourt Defeats Cullen.

Smith to Box Weinert.

New York, April 7.—"Gunboat" Smith and Charley Weinert were matched today to meet in a ten round bout at the Broadway Sporting club of Brooklyn next Tuesday night.

Tuley Preps Beat Schurz.

Tuley High school defeated Carl Schurz in a dual meet in the Tuley gym yesterday, the points being 33 2-3 to 25 1-3. The games were featured by the work of Brodsky for the victors and Randach of Schurz.

Shatter Fences at Key West in Mad Rush to Greet Willard

Great Crowd Welcomes New Champion on Arrival from Havana; Exile Wearies Jack Johnson.

Key West, Fla., April 7.—Jess Willard, the new heavyweight champion of the world, arrived here late today from Havana, where on Monday he won the title from Jack Johnson. A crowd of several thousand who gathered on the pier to greet the new champion broke fences and parted ropes in their eagerness to get near the Kansas giant. The police had great difficulty in preserving order.

When the steamship Governor Cobb, bringing Willard and his party, steamed into the harbor after a rough trip from the Cuban capital, all the shipping flew flags of welcome and the crews lined the rails and yelled cheering words at the white champion. Several government torpedo boat destroyers opened their sirens in welcome. Willard stood on the upper deck and repeatedly lifted his broad brimmed sombrero in answer.

Crowd Rushes for Champion.

As the ship warped into her dock the crowd of excited men, women, and children on the pier craned necks for a glimpse of Willard. A few moments later, as Willard was seen coming down the gangplank, the crowd, held back until now by the police, broke fences and ropes and raced in the direction of the champion.

Soon Willard was surrounded by a throng of cheering, jumping, gesticulating persons, and he was half carried to another end of the pier, where a committee from the board of trade bundled him into a carriage for the parade up to the town. A band headed the procession to Willard's hotel, and he was given an enthusiastic greeting all the way.

Rest for Year, Says Jones.

Later, when Willard was shown a telegram offering $20,000 as a purse for a fight with Frank Moran, he said: "Pshaw! I don't know anything about my future plans. See Tom Jones," indicating his manager. Jones, after reading the telegram, said emphatically that Willard would not fight for nine months or a year.

Members of the party told of the farewell meeting between Johnson and Willard in Havana just before the latter sailed for this country. They said as the steamship bearing Willard left the Havana dock, Johnson turned to a friend and said:

"I wish I were going back to the states. It certainly is hard to be exiled this way."

Then Johnson shouldered his way through the crowd and disappeared.

Exhibits at Baltimore Tomorrow.

Tonight Willard's backers received and answered many telegrams regarding offers of exhibitions while the champion is en route north. After a hurried conference it was announced Willard and his party will travel direct from here to Baltimore, where the first exhibition by the new champion will be given Friday night.

On Saturday Willard and his party will arrive in New York, where a big welcome and reception is said to have been planned.

WILLARD HERE AND THERE.

LONDON, April 7.—A London syndicate has offered a purse of $20,000 for a fight between Jess Willard, who won the heavy weight championship from Jack Johnson at Havana last Monday, and Frank Moran of Pittsburgh. Willard will be offered $1,000 for his traveling expenses.

Moran was defeated by Johnson in twenty rounds on points in Paris on June 27 of last year, and on March 29 of this year he knocked out Bombadier Wells at London in ten rounds.

"I certainly envy Willard," said Moran. "He caught Johnson at just the right time. The Kansan ought to consider himself a very fortunate man."

Jones to Split 50-50.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 7.—[Special.]—Though Jess Willard stands to become a rich man by virtue of winning the heavyweight championship of the world, one Tom Jones stands to cut into the melon considerably himself, it was learned today. Jones, according to reports, spent $30,000 to place Willard within hailing distance of the title.

Jones and Willard have a contract by which Jones is to receive 50 per cent of all Willard's earnings for a period of ten years. Jones will pay all of Willard's expenses, such as training bills, railroad fares, hotel, and living expenses out of his end of the big fellow's earnings. This contract was drawn up and signed in Milwaukee the day after Willard's burlesque here with Rodel.

Willard Changes Name?

Denver, Colo., April 7.—[Special.]—Jess Willard, new world's champion of the prize ring, is not Jess Willard, but is Arthur Brittingham, son of a well to do Missouri farmer, according to a statement made here today by Frank Brittingham of Denver, who also claims to be a cousin of Willard's.

"Willard is merely a fighting name," said Brittingham, "but has been adopted and used in private life. Ten years ago, over the Kansas line from Ridge Hill, Mo., a coal miner was almost killed in a prize fight. Later, it is said, Brittingham changed his name to Jess Willard."

Jess Willard Offered Job.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 7.—The president of the state board of agriculture today offered Jess Willard the job of state cattle inspector. The offer said the state needed just such a man as Jess.

Johnson Gets Passport to Come Back to States

HAVANA, April 7.—Jack Johnson, who lost the heavyweight pugilistic championship to Jess Willard last Monday, today applied at the American legation for a passport for himself and his wife, swearing to an affidavit that he had never been convicted of a felony in the United States, that no charge was pending against him, and that he was not subject to arrest if he returned to America.

Johnson also swore that he possessed American passports when he came to Cuba, but that these had been stolen from him while here. In his affidavit Johnson said he was an American citizen and that he purposed to return to the United States within the next three months.

On these statements passports were made out for Johnson and his wife. The former champion said he purposed to go from Cuba to Jamaica and thence to England and France, where he hoped to make more money before retiring to the life of a farmer in France. Johnson said he expected to ally himself with moving picture concerns in Europe and that he probably would lecture before and during the exhibition of the pictures of the fight in which Willard defeated him.

JIM COFFEY DRIVES MORRIS ABOUT RING

New York, April 7.—[Special.]—Jim Coffey knows now how it means to meet the gamest man in the world and watch him take right hander after right hander for ten rounds on the jaw without going down. Coffey gave Morris a cruel beating at the St. Nicholas rink for the full limit in a fight that was the best seen between big men in many months.

Morris stood up under a battering that would have finished a dozen ordinary heavyweights. Carl shook off right hand punches to the jaw as if they had been whisks from a feather duster. Coffey himself was astounded at the Sapulpa man's ability to fake the smashes.

Tires from Own Blows.

At times Jim got so weary with punching Morris that his arms dropped and he gasped for breath. Morris inflicted a deal of punishment in close. His best punches were uppercuts to the body, while Coffey was trying to get a respite as he held on. Coffey fought the best bout of his career.

Coffey was bleeding from the mouth in the second, but in the next round a left hook brought blood from Morris' mouth. Morris was groggy at the bell ending the fourth and in the fifth was shaken up by a hard right to the body.

Morris Is Cautioned.

Morris was cautioned in the sixth for hitting in the breakaway, landing a hard right uppercut. A left hook cut Morris' eye in the eighth. The westerner was staggering at the end of the ninth and he held tightly in the final round. Coffey appeared overanxious at opportune moments.

Both fighters had issued challenges to Willard and a large crowd saw the contest. Coffey weighed 200 pounds and Morris 228.

SPORTING NEWS NOTES.

Harry Cohen has been chosen to manage the baseball team of the Dodger Athletic club.

The new tennis courts at John Marshall High school were dedicated yesterday.

The United States army nine, which will play at Weeghman's park in the absence of the Whales, will open at the north side park on April 18.

Yussiff Hussane, the Turk, will wrestle Jimmy Esson in a finish match at the Haymarket tomorrow night. Paul Martinson and the "Mysterious Horseshoer" will grapple in the semi-final.

Twenty-four ball teams were represented at a meeting of the Lutheran Athletic association last night in the Masonic temple. A tentative schedule was drawn up, a constitution adopted, and additional officers elected. The feasibility of enlarging the association's field to include all forms of sport, particularly track and field athletics, is being considered.

WOLGAST AND WELSH TO BATTLE ON MAY 4

Cadillac, Mich., April 7.—[Special.]—Ad Wolgast today accepted the terms of the South Side Athletic club of Milwaukee for a ten round fight with Freddie Welsh on May 4.

Wolgast agrees to submit his right arm to an examination by the Wisconsin boxing commission on or before April 15 and to train fifteen days in Chicago and Milwaukee. It is stated in a communication from Promoter Ben Steinel of Milwaukee to Wolgast that Welsh has been signed for the bout.

Dr. Otto L. Ricker today examined Ad's damaged arm and expressed the belief that Wolgast would pass the examination by the commission, and that his arm would permit him to scrap with considerable vigor by May 4.

Welsh to Meet Watson.

St. Paul, Minn., April 7.—Freddie Welsh and Red Watson of California have been matched to fight ten rounds at Hudson, Wis., on April 20, it was announced by the Hudson Boxing club today.

NOTED BROODMARE IS DEAD.

New York, April 7.—The death of Bashti, one of the most prized broodmares at Harry Payne Whitney's Brookdale farm, became known today. Bashti was the daughter of Adam, a French stallion. Mr. Whitney paid $30,000 for the mare at the dispersal sale of the New Castle stable at Saratoga Springs in 1910 in the hope of winning the Futurity. She ran second to S. C. Hildreth's Novelty in that race, but later won the filing half of the Matron stakes. She was ranked as one of the best fillies of her age.

MAGEE AND HOFMAN BATTLE

Memphis, Tenn., April 7.—The fight between Manager Magee of the Brooklyn Feds and Artie Hofman, the former Cub, continues. Hofman declared he would go from Cincinnati to his home in Akron until summoned to Brooklyn by Robert B. Ward. Magee declared such action by Ward will be followed by his resignation as manager, and that he is through with Hofman until the utility man is ready to obey rules.

WE ARE COMFORTED.

I.

Some people make my poor head ache
With their display of spleen,
And E. J. S., I must confess,
Strikes me as very mean.

He makes a moan and casts a stone
At your DELIGHTFUL verse
About your boy. He's one kill-joy;
His ravings make me curse

It's plain to me, as plain's can be,
What's eating this poor guy;
He's envious, the jealous cuss,
'Cause he can't versify.

Now, Ring, old top, don't ever stop
That Monday morning smile.
Let those that growl and knock and howl
Go soak their heads awhile.

MAC.

II.

I wish you'd choke
The human joke
Who knocked your baby stuff.
I read the Wake
For Baby's sake
And never get enough
Of what you write.
So please invite
That joy killer into an alley and give him Rats on Rough.

A MOTHER.

III.

I disagree with E. J. S.
I do not know his home address,
But I will take a chance and guess
He has no kid.

He wouldn't be so doggoned rough,
He wouldn't scowl and make such gruff
Remarks about your Monday stuff,
If he did (have a kid, presumably).

FEDERALS WANT MARSANS TO PLAY HERE SATURDAY

Will Ask Injunction Be Dissolved Pending Landis' Verdict.

St. Louis, Mo., April 7.—[Special.]—Attorneys for the St. Louis Federal club will hold conferences on Friday with Judge Landis in Chicago and Judge Sanborn in St. Paul, looking toward the dissolution of the temporary injunction which prevents Armando Marsans from playing against Chicago in the St. Louis-Chicago opening game on Saturday.

The Federal attorneys asked attorneys for organized ball to join them in a movement to have injunctions dissolved pending the Landis decision, and, if necessary, the trial of the cases. Organized ball lawyers refused. The Feds, therefore, will act alone.

It is understood that they will urge upon Judge Sanborn the fact that the Marsans case is included in the case before Judge Landis. The injunction was issued by Judge Sanborn last June.

KLEPFER HURLS FOR SOX II., BEATING SIOUX CITY, 9 TO 4.

Sioux City, Ia., April 7.—[Special.]—The Sox Yannigans beat the Sioux City Western league champions today, 9 to 4, in a drizzling rain. Klepfer was forced to pitch again in spite of the fact he worked Monday and Saturday. Ellis Johnson was expected to join the squad here, but failed to show. Klepfer struck out nine and allowed only seven hits.

The Sox put six balls over the right field fence into the Missouri river. They count only for doubles here. Not a Sioux City batter could lift one over. Demmitt and Fournier were the hitting stars. Fournier poled a triple, two doubles, and a single. Demmitt got a double, three singles, and reached first once on an error.

Sioux City used three pitchers. Kelly who started, was banged for eight runs and seven hits in the first two innings. Gaspar, formerly of Cincinnati, was great for three innings, fanning seven. White wound it up by whiffing four. Bromwich, Roth, Baldwin, and Lathrop hit two apiece.

THOMAS WANTS FEDS TO PAY FOR M'CONNELL

...UB HEAD ASKS MONEY SPENT FOR JUMPER

BY HANDY ANDY.

President Charles H. Thomas of the Cubs yesterday mailed to President Charles H. Weeghman of the Whales a letter in which is contained a suggestion unique in the history of the baseball warfare. Reviewing the case of Pitcher George McConnell, who jumped from O. B. to the Whales, Thomas presents to Weeghman "an account of the money the Chicago club of the National league has invested in Pitcher McConnell," and later says: "I feel that you should reimburse us for our investment in the services of Player McConnell."

In a nutshell, Thomas proposes to sell a player to the outlaw league. Such a thing is unheard of in baseball. The fact that McConnell already has cast his lot with the Federals takes some of the edge off the suggestion, yet the Thomas letter is sure to cause a lot of commotion among the magnates of organized baseball. It is hard to foresee a wild protest from Thomas' allies in the war on the Feds.

Refuses Kansas City Job.

McConnell was let out by the Cubs because they had no room for him with the twenty-one player limit in force in the National league. He was sold to Kansas City of the American association, but signed with the Whales instead, thereby beating the Cubs whatever sum the Kaws were to have paid for his services.

In his letter Thomas cites that he paid $2,500 for McConnell in the draft, paid the pitcher a salary for the closing weeks of last season, and has allowed him to participate in all the benefits of our spring training. He has stopped at one of the finest hotels in the south at our expense," Thomas continues.

Points Made by Thomas.

Some of the points made by Thomas are exceedingly interesting, although they are also liable to provoke mirth, in view of past relations between the contending clubs in the baseball conflict. Prexy Tom asserts that Weeghman consider the matter as a debt of honor; he affirms that he is sure Weeghman would not be a party to an act of piracy pending the decision of Judge Landis in the trust suit; he states he is merely trying to protect the interests of his stockholders, just as Weeghman would wish to protect the investment of those interested in the Chicago Federal club; he declares the signing of a player belonging to O. B. before Judge Landis hands out his decision would appear to be an act of contempt! He winds up with this assertion: "Knowing you as I do, I do not believe that you personally would wish to enact the rôle of Capt. Kidd."

Johnson Refuses Comment.

President Ban Johnson of the American league refused to comment when shown a copy of the letter. If he grasped the fact that Thomas to all intents and purposes proposed to sell a player to the outlaw league, he did not mention the matter. President Gilmore of the Fed league enjoyed a good laugh when told of the move. "Weeghman ought to pay him, just for the novelty of buying a player from organized baseball," he said.

Plans for the opening of real baseball are being rushed rapidly at the headquarters of all three local clubs. Everything is in readiness for the big opening at the north side on Saturday, when Fielder Jones and his S'Loufeds will help the Whales pry off the lid. Tinker's men are due to reach Chicago late tonight for a day of real rest before the baseball flag campaign starts. President Gilmore, with Owner Gwinner of Pittsburgh, will go to Kansas City Friday night for the opening there on Saturday.

Comiskey to Attend Opener.

Ban Johnson will accompany President Comiskey of the White Sox to St. Louis to see the White Sox open against the Browns next Wednesday. When Johnson was in St. Louis recently President Rickey informed him that Earl Hamilton would serve his southpaw curves against the Sox in the first clash of the season. Johnson and Comiskey, with a collection of ardent Sox fans, will leave Tuesday night for the Mound city.

Des Jardien to Oppose Cubs.

Pat Page, Maroon baseball coach, visited Cub headquarters yesterday to secure some tickets for the Maroon-Cub game on Monday. Paul Des Jardien will pitch part of the game for the collegians and President Thomas declares that if Bresnahan likes the work of "shorty" the Maroon star may be signed to play with the west siders.

NEXT SATURDAY.

Sounds Like 'Murf,' Replies Weeghman

"McConnell walked into my office with an unconditional release in his pocket," said Weeghman when told of the stand Thomas had taken. "I can't see where I owe any one a cent for his services. He was absolutely free anyway, for the contract he had with the Cubs contained a ten day clause, which has been ruled illegal by the courts.

"Thomas knows me well enough to have called me over the phone if he thought he had any great grievance. That letter sounds much more like C. Webb Murphy than like Thomas. Now I wonder who wrote it?

"Until I get the original I can't even say whether or not I'll answer it. Maybe I won't read it. Are you sure you aren't trying to kid me with this stuff?"

WHALES TROUNCE TUSCOLA, 20 TO 0

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Tuscola, Ill., April 7.—[Special.]—The Whales had their busy day today. Arriving in St. Louis from the south this morning too late to catch the regular train to Tuscola, they were given a special, which rushed them here. Breakfast was grabbed at the lunch counter in St. Louis while the baggage was being transferred.

There was no time for any lunch and the boys went out in the rich fields close to town and beat the Tuscola Peppers, 20 to 0, then rushed back to catch the 5:20 o'clock train for Danville. There was a good chance that there would be something to eat in Danville.

If the Whales display the ginger all season that they were compelled to show today they will run away from all the other teams in the Federal league.

The game was a horrible farce, but the local boys have a good excuse—they were a bit out of practice. It was only the second time this year they had put on their suits. The catcher's arm couldn't get the ball to second base after the second inning and the two pitchers were all tired out.

The game was called after six and one-half rounds had been reeled off. No one believed it was possible for the Tuscola boys to catch up then.

There was a good crowd of prosperous looking townsmen and country men at the game. All of the latter drove up in their six cylinder buzz carts. The weather was perfect for baseball and farming, but the latter was dropped for the afternoon in favor of the national sport.

Mordecai Brown started the game just so the natives could look at him. He hurled for three rounds, then gave way to Prendergast, who stayed on for three, Dave Black winding up the work. Art Wilson was compelled to start as catcher because a lot of folks from the home town had motored over to see how he appeared.

Young Jimmy Smith batted 1.000 for the day with four hits and a sacrifice. Farrell made four blows in five times up and Zeider got three in four times at bat.

Red Faber Goes Full Route for Sox Victory Over St. Paul

BY SAM WELLER.

Fort Smith, Ark., April 7.—[Special.]—Capt. Buck Weaver rejoined the White Sox today just in time to see his mates hand the St. Paul American association club an artistic 6 to 1 lacing. Buck got in just as the first inning started, and to hurry his recuperation the Sox poled out ten solid hits, including a triple and three doubles.

Red Faber was selected to travel the full route for the last time previous to the opening of the American league race next Wednesday, and Red showed just as much stuff as he had last year, when he was the sensation of the league. Six hits were all he allotted the Saints. In the sixth a boot, a walk, and a hit filled the sacks with only one gone, but Red fanned the next batter and helped Brief retire the side.

Sox Steal Eight Bases.

Mike Kelley's club opens its campaign next Thursday and the team is nearly ready now, so the Sox got a great workout. Despite the excellent condition of the Saints, the Hose got away with eight stolen bases, showing more speed and daring than at any previous time this spring.

Shano Collins was long distance champion of the hitting brigade with a triple, but Eddie Collins copped the real laurels with a double and two singles. Brief and Breton also poled doubles. Breton continued his batting streak in a desperate effort to hold a regular's job, for in addition to his double he also connected for one single.

Pinch Hitting Lacking.

Manager Rowland was not altogether satisfied with the stick work shown by his men. Ten Hose were stranded on the runways, which indicates the lack of timely swatting. This margin may be reduced somewhat before the flag race starts, however, for Weaver will step back to his old position at short tomorrow and his hitting should boost the attack of the club considerably.

Kelley sent three of his hurlers against the Rowlandites. Williams started, and three runs put the game away for the Sox right in the first round. An error saved Quinlan, Blackburne sacrificed, and John Collins knocked a triple. Felch singled, scoring Collins, and Happy immediately pilfered second. Brief sent him around with a double.

Double Theft Yields Run.

In the seventh the Sox stole a run at the expense of Crouch, who succeeded Williams in the fifth after the latter had yielded seven hits. Eddie Collins singled, stole, and got to third on an infield out. Felch walked, then he and Collins pulled a double theft, on which Eddie scored.

In the ninth the Sox counted two superfluous runs at the expense of a Mr. Larson, the third heaver for the Saints. Eddie Collins doubled. Then a mess, which included a passed ball, an error, a sacrifice, and Breton's double, developed two tallies.

LAVENDER LEADS CUBS TO VICTORY IN 12 TO 1 FARCE

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Nashville, Tenn., April 7.—[Special.]—The Cubs stopped off here today long enough to give the Volunteers a bad beating, 12 to 1, in a poorly played game, then hustled along to Memphis, their last stopping place on the way home.

Bresnahan put Jim Lavender over the regular distance in pursuance of his policy of preparing his slabmen for the big show next week. The Georgia planter went the route in fairly good shape, but was inclined to be mighty wabbly in spots.

Lavender was slapped safely only five times, but he emitted six bases on balls and sundry wild pitches, so that the locals frequently had opportunities to break up the combat. They were denied the fruition of their chances by the good support handed out by the Cubs and by Lavender's ability to tighten up in the bad spots.

Five Runs in Sixth.

For five innings Leverette gave the Cubs a tussle, holding them to five swats and three runs. But in the sixth the Bresnahan tribe got him for a quartet of bingles, one of them across the fence top, and the Volunteers booted the ball around considerably. The outcome was a cluster of five tallies, which made the game soft the rest of the way.

McLeod, who finished the slabbing, was an easy mark, but the Cubs practiced base running against him and paid less attention to the hit column. They increased their run total by four while McLeod officiated and made these counters on four swats and numerous Nashville errors.

Slab Not at Right Angle.

Some of Lavender's wildness was explained by Floyd Kroh, the former Cub scapegoat, who is a Volunteer. Floyd pointed out that the pitcher's plate was not parallel to the front of the home plate. The local diamond was shifted around during the winter to make right field deeper and curtail the number of home runs over the fence. In switching the works the landscape gardener trusted to his eye instead of to the compass and placed the hurling slab askew. The mistake had not been rectified, but will be before the Southern league season opens. Meantime the Volunteers' pitchers have the advantage during the exhibition games because they are more accustomed to pitching askew, but when the slab is straightened they may find it different.

Schulte Poles Home Run.

Schulte led the slugging today with three hits, including a home run over the right field wall. Good, who returned from Chicago in time to reclaim his job from the hands of Knisely, Williams, Bresnahan, Zimmerman, and McLarry, pounded out two hits apiece. One of Williams' went over the fence for two tallies, as Saier was on first at the time.

McLarry was hit by a fast ball in the ninth, and although he could have continued he gave way to Phelan so that the injury, which affected his throwing arm, could be massaged by Trainer Hart. Phelan went in just in time to acquire the only Cub error.

Schlitz is Not Attacking the Light Bottle Brewers

Only their own admissions that "beer in light bottles must be protected" are being used against them.

They have incriminated themselves and continue to do so every day.

and when the light bottle brewers decide to follow the same idea, Schlitz is with them, but not so long as they sell beer that becomes impure when exposed to light.

A Most Exceptional Sale of Worsted Wilton Rugs

THESE are "five frame Wiltons"—a very high grade quality of worsted Wilton rugs which the manufacturer decided to discontinue making, subsequently closing out practically all his remaining stock to this store at an average of 20% Below the Regular Price Schedule

The sale of these rugs now going on is resulting in the most active rug selling in months, and for a very good reason—for these high grade rugs are now marked on the usual basis of the lower-grade Wiltons.

Worsted Wilton rugs, size 4½ ft. x 7½ ft., $11.50	Worsted Wilton rugs, size 8½ ft. x 10½ ft., $29.50	Worsted Wilton rugs, size 9 ft. x 15 ft., $45.00

The designs and colorings are principally reproductions of the finer grades of oriental rugs, true reproductions of Feraghans, Sarouks, Mahals, Kirmanshahs and Kurdistans, and the splendid grade of worsted in these rugs, and the skill used in the dyeing, give them luxurious luster.

THOMPSON PLANS TO ASK HOMERULE OF STATE BOARD

JOBS FOR CHICAGOANS.

Here is the accumulation of things which the mayor elect put on his calendar yesterday:

Set in motion forces to bring about a reenactment of amendments to the Juul law to save the city from actual bankruptcy.

Started inquiries into school finances with a view to avoiding the curtailment of the school term and the reduction of teachers' salaries.

Decided on a prosperity commission which shall see that precedence over nonresidents is given to Chicagoans in employment on big contracts.

Committee Due Tomorrow.

Representative Medill McCormick's house committee on public utilities will arrive here tomorrow for a public session on the home rule bill which is before the house, and which proposes to restore to Chicago the same jurisdiction it formerly had on all local public utilities, and adds to its power by giving it a limited jurisdiction over the steam railroads within the city limits.

The committee will hold a public session in the council chamber tomorrow and on Saturday morning it will hear from Mayor Elect Thompson his reasons why the bill, or one similar to it, should be direction at Springfield be continued.

Harrison Writes of Juul Law.

Mayor Harrison sent a letter to the mayor elect calling his attention to the fact that the amendments made to the Juul law in 1913 will lapse at the end of another year, and that unless they are reenacted the city will not be able to raise money enough next year to meet its running expenses. These amendments exempt interest and sinking funds from the limitations imposed by the Juul law, and by the provisions under which they were passed two years ago they were made effective for three years only.

Mr. Thompson at once turned the letter over to Attorney Richard Folsom with a suggestion that pending the time Mr. Thompson became mayor that the lawyer, who is the legal adviser of the board of education, see to it that the work which is being done under Mayor Harrison's enacted.

On School Funds.

Chicago's mayor-elect also found time to take up with a business man who is in touch with the school finances the shortages of funds which is threatening the successful management of the department of education. He learned enough, he said, to satisfy himself there is no excuse for such a condition:

"I am not willing that the pay of the teachers shall be reduced or that they shall serve without pay, or that the school terms shall be shortened. Economies must be practiced in other directions. Extravagance must be stopped. I believe I will be able to find a way to make the school appropriations cover the period for which they are made without affecting the efficiency of the schools."

Seeks Business Men.

Mr. Thompson said the first appointments he would make would be of business men with a broad spirit of humanity who would volunteer to serve on a prosperity commission. This will be in fulfillment of his promise to try to find some means at once to meet the problem of unemployment.

Charity work by the policemen is another novelty proposed by the mayor-elect. He also suggested having each police station a sort of employment agency, offering another phase of the labor problem which is uppermost in his mind.

"Every police station ought to keep a card index of men out of work," Mr. Thompson continued. "When I say men I refer especially to those who have families.

"Then, when aid must be disbursed, why not trust the policeman on the beat to give a dollar where it is most needed—to the widow, or to the father out of work—rather than to pay 60 cents out of that dollar to investigators or to specialists in statistics?"

Oath on Monday.

Mr. Thompson had planned to take a short run out of the city at the end of this week, but when informed by Chief Clark Egan of the election commission that the canvass of the city vote probably would be completed by Saturday night, permitting a proclamation of the result early on Monday morning, the mayor elect decided to remain over. He then arranged to take the oath of office on Monday, although he will not formally become mayor on that day. After that has been done he will go away for a few days to recover from the effects of his long campaign.

On one other question the mayor elect is emphatic. That is, he has not considered any one for places in his cabinet or for the board of education. In that connection Fred Lundin, who was one of Mr. Thompson's campaign managers, and who has been mentioned for an important position, said under no circumstances would he accept any kind of an appointment in the incoming administration.

"The Merry Whirl" Attracts Second Big Audience.

"The Merry Whirl," the season's most gorgeous charity affair, danced its glittering way before a second fashionable audience last night at Orchestra hall. An even larger attendance than Tuesday night was reported. A large part of the audience hurried down to the Blackstone after the curtain went down and fox trotted and cantered the balance of the evening.

MAYOR ANALYZES DEMOCRAT LOSS

Blames Overplaying of German and Catholic Issues for Sweitzer Defeat.

Mayor Harrison, in a startlingly frank interview last night, told why, in his opinion, the Democratic candidates were snowed under.

"One of the causes of our downfall Tuesday was revulsion against the injection of the religious issue," he said. "You can get away with this religious issue once, but not a second time.

"Thousands of good Catholics in Chicago rebelled against this style of campaign and voted against the Democratic ticket. This issue was used against me in the windup of the primary campaign. Where the mistake was made was in bringing it out again in the election campaign a few weeks later.

The German Issue.

"A great many people revolted, too, against the continued playing up of Mr. Sweitzer as a German. The Sweitzer campaign managers, if they were responsible for this, made a big mistake. The German newspapers also made a big mistake in always refering to Sweitzer as the German candidate. I saw one circular, distributed broadcast, carrying likenesses of the kaiser and Franz Josef of Austria, and appealing to the Germans of Chicago to vote for Sweitzer and thereby aid the German soldiers in the trenches in the war zone of Europe.

"Then the Democratic managers injected Lorimerism into the fight. We all know that Sullivan played ball with Lorimer for years, and a great many people, no doubt, feel that Lorimer may now be getting his just deserts, but what they couldn't stand was to see the Democratic managers kick Lorimer when he was down.

"But I would say that the biggest obstacle encountered was the refusal of the people to let the Sullivan faction of our party run the mayor's office.

"National Issues Involved.

"There is no doubt national issues played a part. The Lord only knows how many unemployed we have in Chicago. Then arranged to take the oath of office on Monday, although he will not formally become mayor on that day. After that has been done he will go away for a few days to recover from the effects of his long campaign.

On one other question the mayor elect is emphatic. That is, he has not considered any one for places in his cabinet or for the board of education. In that connection Fred Lundin, who was one of Mr. Thompson's campaign managers, and who has been mentioned for an important position, said under no circumstances would he accept any kind of an appointment in the incoming administration.

FATHER W. J. FINN CALLED TO BIG NEW YORK CHORUS.

Former Director of Paulist Choristers in Chicago Summoned to Important Musical Post.

Information was received in Chicago yesterday that the Rev. W. J. Finn, C. S. P., former director of the Paulist choristers, has been summoned from Toronto to New York to take charge of the Paulist choir in that city.

Father Finn organized the Paulist choristers in 1905. Under his direction the choir became one of the foremost organizations in the world. At Philadelphia it took first prize in a contest of American male choirs, and in Paris it was awarded first prize in a world's tournament, in which 600 organizations participated.

the fair. But in any itinerary Huron mountain and the trout fishing will have a big place."

From Roger and J. Ham.

Both Roger C. Sullivan and United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis would not agree with Mayor-elect Thompson that the Chicago mayoralty election indicated the nation would swing into the Republican column next year.

"These conditions are local," Mr. Sullivan said. "You have such conditions in many large cities most of the time. But it is a long way yet to the election of 1916.

Senator Lewis said:

"It may be true the appeal to the unemployed helped Mr. Thompson considerably. But these conditions are being remedied daily. The war has hurt us considerably. Events may take place within the next few months that will entirely change the complexion of things in this country."

CITY OFFICIALS READY TO MOVE

Few Harrison Men Have Hope of Holding Over Under Thompson.

Holders of big and little jobs in the city hall by grace of Carter H. Harrison yesterday took a new start in their preparations for moving day.

Among the higher salaried officials who are cleaning out their desks, with the amount of their salaries, are:

City Controller Zimmer, $10,000.
Commissioner of Public Works McGann, $10,000.
Deputy Commissioner Kostner, $5,000.
Corporation Counsel Beckwith, $10,000.
Building Commissioner Ericsson, $5,000.
Harbor Commissioner Shankland, $10,000.
Civil Service Commissioner Campbell, $5,000.
Mayor's Secretary Fitzmorris, $5,000.
Commissioner of Public Service Ferry, $5,000.
Commissioner of Public Welfare Meier, $5,000.
Business Agent Reynolds, $5,000.
Oil Inspector James A. Quinn, $4,000.
City Collector Cohen, $5,000.
City Attorney Piotrowski, $5,000.
Prosecuting Attorney Appell, $5,000.
Smoke Inspector Monnett, $4,000.
City Electrician Palmer, $5,000.
City Physician McGregor, $4,000.

Gleason to Be Captain.

Chief Gleason and Fire Marshal O'Connor also are ready for the ax if it comes, but in these cases the victim steps back to his civil service position, Gleason becoming a captain again and O'Connor a first assistant marshal.

In the law department there are a number of high salaried assistants, including Bryan L. Craig, Leon Hornstein, Philip J. McKenna, and Lee D. Matthias, who will not be surprised if the change of administration returns them to private practice.

Four members of the local board receiving $4,000 salaries also expect to go, and E. W. Bemis, the city representative on the board of supervising engineers, is prepared to leave.

Several May Hold Over.

The only discussion about the possibility of present holders of appointive offices being retained by Mr. Thompson centers around the names of a few individuals.

Charles M. Hafl, assistant corporation counsel, is a Republican held over from the Busse administration.

Elton Lower, civil service commissioner, was president of the board under Busse and entered this field of work under Edward J. Brundage in the county service.

New Members of Council Will Demand Cut in Charges.

Seymour Stedman, Socialist candidate for mayor, laid the small Socialist vote on Tuesday to the business depression and large numbers of idle workmen in the city.

"There are more Socialists in times of prosperity than in times of depression," Mr. Stedman said. "The man who is destitute cannot think, and so goes back to his first impressions, 90 per cent of which are wrong. This is what happened yesterday. The 'ful dinner pail' cry carried them off their feet, and many of them who voted for the Socialist candidates for the city council didn't vote for the head of the ticket.

The Religious Issue.

"I did not think the religious bitterness was so intense Socialists would scratch the head of the ticket to vote for Thompson. I estimated the vote for the head of the Socialist ticket would reach 35,000 and I based my estimates on THE TRIBUNE'S straw ballot. The vote was in the neighborhood of 30,000.

"For the aldermen, however, if the percentage were taken, I should have received 45,000 to 50,000. I am pleased, nevertheless, that we have two members of the city council.

Seek to Cut Light Rates.

"One of the first things the Socialists in the council will do is to introduce a resolution reducing the rates of the Commonwealth Edison company. The rate of 10 cents per kilowatt hour here is 2 cents higher than in any other large city of the United States.

"I want to give my praise to THE TRIBUNE for the fair way it treated the news of the Socialist campaign."

FAIL TO PLACE A LIMIT ON STATE APPROPRIATIONS.

House Republicans in Caucus at Springfield Defeated in Move to Curb Expenditures.

Springfield, Ill., April 7.—An unsuccessful effort was made today at a caucus of house Republicans to limit the expenditures of the present legislature to $35,000,000.

DEMOCRATS FOR NONPARTY JUDGE

Before Republican Mayoralty Victory They Talked for Full Slate.

Democrats are taking a new view of a nonpartisan judicial election since the Republican party, alive, healthy, and militant, dropped into their midst on Tuesday. They are for it. Sure! Why not? The people want it!

Congressman Sabath, chairman of the Democratic county committee, yesterday went on record for nonpartisanship. As a lawyer he said he appreciated the evils of political judges, and he expressed the hope the Republicans would take the same view of it.

Difference of Two Weeks.

Two weeks ago Mr. Sabath and the majority of the committee decided to hold a convention and nominate candidates for all the judgeships. The convention was called for this morning.

In the meantime the election was held. There was not much in the result to encourage Democrats who had visions of occupying judicial seats.

So when the Democratic convention meets in the Briggs house this morning it will adjourn subject to the call of the chairman, the date of reassembling to be not later than May 1. A committee composed of Chairman Sabath, John Downey, and Anton J. Cermak will be appointed to confer with the Republicans on the nonpartisan proposition.

Sabath Proposes Compromise.

"I believe we should agree with the Republicans on a nonpartisan slate," Mr. Sabath said, "renominating the present judges, seven of whom are Democrats and seven Republicans. Each party could nominate three for the new places. Judge Brentano of the Superior court, Republican, should be renominated, and the vacancy in that court ought to come to us because Judge Clark, who died, was a Democrat. For good measure, then, we would not oppose the reelection of Justice Carter of the Supreme court."

Chairman Matchett of the Republican county committee said he probably would call a meeting of that committee to be held within a few days.

BARNEY GROGAN HITS TOBOGGAN; MURRAY IN BY 243

OFFERS TO RECOUNT VOTES.

Mr. Barney Grogan, our well known map maker of the Eighteenth ward, slipped yesterday, just as he thought he was stepping into the city council.

Mr. Grogan is unfortunate in his relations with the city hall. Recently he lost his saloon license there, and yesterday he lost an aldermanic seat which he was counting among his political assets. Last night he gave indications he was about to lose his temper.

That error which caused Mr. Grogan's fall was made in tabulating the precinct vote for aldermanic candidates. As footed on Tuesday night, the figures gave him a 337 vote eyelash hold on the place.

Carl T. Murray Wins.

In checking up the City News bureau found it had made a mistake of 600. A correction left Carl T. Murray, a Republican, without any map making ability of Barney's kind, winner by 243 votes.

"Now, I'll tell you all about that," said Mr. Grogan last night at his soft drink stall at Van Buren street and Racine avenue. "I have been elected. If I was not honestly elected I would not think of taking the office. I wouldn't have anything which did not belong to me.

He's a Square Guy.

"I'll sign an order for that fellow [meaning Mr. Murray] giving my consent to have the ballots spread out on a table and counted by the election commissioners. That fellow [meaning Mr. Murray again] need not bring a contest. I'm a square guy."

Mr. Grogan did not seem to understand that if a contest was brought he would have to bring it, if the corrected totals hold up in the official canvass.

Barney made a desperate campaign. He had boasted he would give the Democratic nominee for mayor 7,000 plurality, and he would carry the ward by 10,000.

If the official canvass confirms the corrected figures Mr. Murray's victory will have been the most notable of an extraordinary election. He made the campaign almost without funds.

GAVELS TO G. O. P.?

Candidates for prize places on city council committees appeared yesterday as if by magic in the wake of the Republican landslide.

It was generally conceded the change in the administration and in the control of the council entitled the Republicans to the chairmanships of the two committees at the head of the list—those on finance and local transportation.

Ald. John A. Richert now is chairman of finance. The names of four men were discussed as possible candidates for his place. They are Lewis D. Sitts, W. F. Lippe, James H. Lawley, and Charles E. Merriam. In connection with Ald. Eugene Block's place as chairman of the committee on local transportation, Ald. W. J. Healy, Ald. Henry D. Capitain, and Ald. Lippe were mentioned.

There was talk of the chairmanship of the railway terminals committee now held by Ald. Ellis Geiger going to a Republican—Ald. A. J. Fisher, Ald. Capitain, or Ald. Healy. It was suggested the chairmanship of the special parks commission should go to Ald. Capitain.

MAN LEAVES TWO WILLS: $25,000 TO CHICAGO WOMAN?

Edward B. Branick, who was killed in a railroad wreck at Bismore Junction, Cal., March 5, left two wills. In one of them he left practically all of his $25,000 estate to Mrs. Sarah A. Large of Chicago. The other will contained no mention of Mrs. Large.

When the estate came up for probate before Superior Judge Rives a contest against the admission of the first will was made by James J. Branick, a brother. A search was instituted for Mrs. Large. No trace of her could be found in Los Angeles. A dispatch was then sent to Chicago to see if Mrs. Large could be found here.

"My wife is out in California," he said. "I was a personal friend of the late Mr. Branick and had known him for a long time. I was surprised to hear of Mr. Branick's will in which he left $25,000 to my wife, but see no reason why my wife should not endeavor to secure the money."

GRIEVING OVER MOTHER'S DEATH, GIRL ENDS LIFE.

Grief over the death of her mother caused Miss Amy Schoeneck of 3718 West Jackson boulevard to shoot herself to death while in a room at the Morrison hotel yesterday. At the hotel she registered as Miss A. A. Schiller Springfield, Mass.

Fred Schoeneck, a brother, told the police she disappeared from home on April 5. Since then he had been searching for her.

FLICKERINGS from FILM LAND

by Kitty Kelly.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 7.—There is no reel reason for me to flicker over the exposition except that I am here and you are there.

As far as the Panama-Pacific International exposition—comfortably abbreviated to P. P. I. E.—goes, in proportion to all the other interests represented "there ain't no such animal as the cinema."

One can walk a few miles, several hundred acres, the guidebook obligingly explains, and see a vast quantity of one thing and another, but never a sight of the motion picture in its flowering glory, which recent experiences in Los Angeles had made me feel to be quite absolutely the center of the universe.

The P. P. I. E. lays large and prominent fingers on practically every other phase of the world's activities, yet leaves this tremendous combination of business and art quite unindexed.

There are, of course, a few picture touches in the way of animated views of various typical industries shown in their state buildings for illustrative purposes, the one "picture show" in the joy zone, operated by the Universal company—a sad looking place that suggests the need of renovation—and an exhibit of some of Selig's animals.

That constitutes, so far as I could see today, the contribution of the picture world, which has sprung into such amazing being within less than the last decade, to this great world exposition.

"Well, I don't know, unless it's because the producers feel well enough known. They get to the people everywhere every day and there was no necessity for a big display here."

So there you are. If you want to see pictures for pictures' sake, don't be coming to the exposition to do it. Instead keep on dropping into the theater just around the corner.

Milwaukee to See Chicago Plan Films.

Milwaukee is to have the distinction of being the first city outside of Chicago to witness the Chicago plan pictures—"A Tale of One City"—under arrangements now being made by the Educational Films association.

It is understood that the Milwaukee exhibitions will successively follow each other for a run of fifteen days at the Alhambra and Crystal theaters, the finest motion picture theaters in Milwaukee, beginning next week.

The Strand and American theaters in Minneapolis have made application for the films to follow the Milwaukee production. From there they will continue around the country.

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

Prawn Equal of Lobster.

INQUIRIES have been made concerning prawns, which will soon be out of season, except the canned sort. It is as a canned product that both the prawn and shrimp are best known, perhaps, in the United States. These two small crustaceans are much alike, but the prawn is larger and much closer allied to the lobster.

Prawns, cooked and uncooked, are in our fish markets for a good many months of the year, but, unfortunately, real fish markets are few. The cooked prawns also are sold in some delicatessen places. When cooked they turn pink and keep better. In their natural state they are grayish white. Both sorts are rarely seen except without their heads. Economical people use the heads in bisques, and those who use the prawn much for garnishing can do the most if the head is left on. Elegant eaters hold the head in the right hand, the tail in the left, and by just the right manipulation get the meat out in one piece.

In the natural state prawns have just recently been sold at 25 cents a pound, much cheaper than lobsters. At their best they are quite as delicate of taste as the lobster. When freshly boiled in a well seasoned water, many people will like to eat them just as crawfish are eaten, from the shell, without a sauce. It is considered plebeian to eat cold boiled lobster with nothing but vinegar, but people of the New England coast thought there was nothing finer than this combination, and prawn meat served in the same way is almost identical in taste.

The first morning my little brother went to kindergarten he was very good until about 10 o'clock, when he got up and started out. The teacher asked where he was going. He replied, "I'se doin' to det some lunch." Not living very far she let him go. He returned in the afternoon and was very good until about 3 o'clock, when he started out again. The teacher called him back and said, "Where are you going now?" He answered, "I des I dota take my nap, don't I?"

Whistling Made Beautiful Mouth

Lillian Russell

Did you transform yourself from an ugly duckling by a beauty trick? Write and tell me what that beauty trick was. "The Tribune" will pay $1 for every letter published. Address Lillian Russell, Chicago Tribune.

I am not beautiful by any means, but have a nice mouth, and I made it so by whistling. I whistled at my work whenever possible and at home, too. The result is that my mouth looks smaller and the corners turn up instead of down, as they did before I took up whistling. Besides whistling certainly makes a person cheerful and jolly—two great helps to beauty.

E. L.

Culture as a Beauty Trick.

Here is the way this ugly duckling became a near swan: Although realizing that I had no especial charm of face or figure, I was 30 before I had the inspiration to quit the futile striving to beautify myself physically, and devote myself, heart and soul, to the cultivation of graces of the mind and spirit.

Now, while I am looked upon as a bit strong minded by certain people, my conversational ability, and the charm of easy grace that knowledge gives, have gained for me a prestige I never could have attained through personal appearance. And by no means the least gratifying phase of this change in myself is the fact that the new light of intelligence and world interest that shines in my face and pulses through all my being has really transformed me from the "plain woman" to the "attractive woman" class.

Culture is a "beauty trick" that counts and an asset that lasts long after merely physical charm crumbles into old age and nothingness.

Fashions from London

LONDON.—[Special Correspondence.]—The sketch I have drawn for today is another example of a charming little empire sailor carried out in Corot blue silk and picot ribbon. At one side a rose is coquettishly arranged and there is a long streamer of ribbon falling over the shoulder. This shape will be worn with the new ultra full skirts made of shot taffeta or faille and with short coatees which have bolero fronts and straight backs.

There is another type of hat which is extremely becoming for wear with the newest style frocks. It is called the capeline and is an the picturesque order in shape but is not so large. The best looking one I have seen was of ivory white satin with layer upon layer of black chiffon covering the outer side. There must have been at least six layers of the black chiffon, which made it look more like softest black suede than any other material. This capeline was designed by a world famous artist and was simply trimmed. A plaited band of dull silk was twisted about the crown and at the right side there was a knot which was finished by a dull gold tassel.

I have seen some rarely lovely roses and pansies made entirely of soft ostrich feathers. The roses were in subtle shades of pink and wine red, and the way in which the petals were imitated in feathers was really wonderful. The soft ostrich trimming was cleverly curved back to give the natural shape of the rose, and even the leaves were made of the feathers in shades of green and brown. Flowers of this kind will be widely used to trim the new picture hats.

Another floral novelty took the guise of water lilies made of white suede and framed in large leaves made of dark green taffeta. The white looked like the real water lily petals and the golden centers were made of exquisite chiffon.

THE GARDENER AT WORK

The Garden Editor will give expert advice on planning gardens, organizing garden clubs, and planting flowers, vegetables, or shrubs. The amateur gardener is incited to tell his troubles with soil, pests, or plants. Practical aid will be given in arranging suburban grounds, school, vacant lot, back yard, porch, or window gardens. Ask what and how to plant for fine results. Address The Garden Editor, "The Tribune."

The Sweet Smelling Plants.

FRAGRANCE is essential to a perfect garden. Not all flowers have perfumes, and it would be possible to plant a gay, showy arrangement of flowers without one that made sweet odors on the air.

The early spring hyacinths, narcissus, and lilies have the delicate perfumes. Nearly all the June flowers are fragrant, and in choosing what to plant, the sweet smelling should be kept in the list.

The May pinks (pumarius) of the borders and nearly all of the dianthus family, including the garden annuals, sweet williams, and the carnations, are sweet scented. The petunias of all sorts have a rich odor which is stronger in the morning and after sunset. The nicotina has a very rich scent at night.

Heliotrope, a sun lover, has an intoxicating perfume. Like the pinks and petunias, when cut and put in vases it will perfume an entire room. Sweet alyssum and one sort of blue ageratum have a delicate fragrance. Candytuft is in the same class. But mignonette, in the right ground bearing large sheafs of bloom, excels them all for its fragrance.

Sweet peas are as well known for their scents as the violets. Wallflowers are fragrant, and nasturtiums and pansies have each their odor. The tall perennial phlox have a heavy sweetness, while the annual phlox drummondi exhibit only a faint odor.

The verbenas, sweet scented geraniums, southern wood or old man, and lemon verbena have a place on all lists of perfume plants for the garden.

An Old Song.

"The song H. J. M. asks for is an old-timer. Many a time have I heard it sung as a boy in the English navy. It is one that touches the heart strings and brings tears to the eyes. I don't remember the words, but think I can get it for you.

Pillsbury's Bran

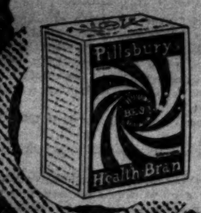

IT'S ROUGH But "IT WORKS"

Its first function is to make food more delicious.

The coarse, toasted flakes add immeasurably to the appetizing attractiveness of muffins, cup cakes, bread and cookies. The relishing nut-like flavor which characterizes Pillsbury's Health Bran is distinctive and pleasing.

Its second function is to aid in the natural digestion of all food eaten and the easy, thorough elimination of waste matter.

Your physician will recommend it enthusiastically as a laxative. It cleanses the intestines without any of the violence that comes from the use of purgative drugs.

MUSIC and the THEATERS

MISS FLORENCE AUER WITH ROBERT MANTELL.

Brahms Trio Gives Benefit Recital.

BY RONALD WEBSTER.

USUALLY the reviewer approaches a Brahms concert with doubt and fear. The works of this composer are not made for public acclamation; they are not constructed with an eye to popularity. Brahms satisfied his own concepts of what should be in music. As a result, there are many who fall in appreciation of some of his works; and many who believe him the only musician worth consideration.

There was a Brahms concert for charity last evening at the Fine Arts theater given by the Johannes Brahms trio, an organization which by its name avows its consecration to the composer's ascetic and philosophic nature. This concert the reviewer, who is not especially enlightened as to the all-inclusive merits of the composer, approaches with nothing but pleasure and admiration.

The first number was the sonata in G major (opus 78) for violin and piano. It is written in three movements, the first restrained and a little cold, the second majestic, somewhat funereal, and the last powerful, infectious through its rhythms, thoroughly unified in its development with the first two movements.

Mrs. B. L. Taylor, the pianist, is evidently the foundation of the organization. To her at any rate fell the inconspicuous task of carrying out the harmonies of the music. At first, it is true, both Leon Marx, the violinist, and Mrs. Taylor seemed a little cold in their execution.

She obtained from the piano an agreeable tone, and demonstrated her possession of what is so necessary in the performance of Brahms, an accurate and moving rhythmic sense. It must also be said that she preserved a sense of proportion in the sonata, never thrusting herself too much to the fore, allowing the violin to present the melodic line of the composition. This same admirable reticence characterized her playing in the trio in C major, opus 87.

On the program also were five songs by John Alden Carpenter, sung by Mrs. Hanna Butler. Mrs. Butler's singing is marred by a tremolo, but her tone, especially in the higher register, is full and sweet. Mr. Carpenter was at the piano.

The concert, prefaced by a speech from Mr. Hackett of the Post, was given for the benefit of the Archer Road Day nursery. The proceeds were somewhat in excess of $400, according to estimates of the box office employés.

Popular Concert.

The seventh and final concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra's "popular series" will be given in Orchestra hall this evening at 8:15, with Mr. Stock as usual conducting.

The program will include the overture to "Mignon" of Thomas, the Andante from Tschaikowsky's Fifth symphony; the scherzo, "South," from Hadley's American symphony; Alfven's Swedish rhapsody; Saint-Saëns' symphonic poem, "The Dance of Death"; Hellmesberger's Ball Scene (played by all the violins); the waltz from Strauss' "The Bat," and Elgar's march, "Pomp and Circumstance."

* *

Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

With Fritz Kreisler, the violinist, as soloist, the Chicago Symphony orchestra will be heard in its usual weekly program in Orchestra hall tomorrow afternoon and Saturday evening.

Mr. Kreisler will be heard in the Beethoven Violin Concerto in D major, to the performance of which the entire second half of the program will be devoted. The first part of the program is made up of Weber's "Oberon" overture, Borodin's Symphony No. 2 in B minor, and Delius' "Life's Dance."

ART

BY ANNE ELLIS.

RANDALL DAVEY, whose exhibition of paintings opens at the Art institute today, has lately been awarded the second Hallgarten prize at the National Academy of Design in New York. After seeing his pictures one is inclined to think that he received it for coloring rather than form.

There is something almost uncanny about his work, because, although it is not exactly pleasing, and although his choice of subjects is extremely inartistic, there is that about it which, though inexpressible, is fine.

The gypsy girl, for instance, is a good example of this illusive quality which amounts almost to genius. There is beauty offsetting carelessness through the whole exhibit; the crassness of "Monhegan Harbor" is offset by the cleverness of "Blue Day."

Mr. Davey's theory must be that whatever is well painted is art, or he would hardly give us the portrait of a very homely, very fat colored woman in the unpicturesque garb of a domestic as a thing of beauty. This lack of the sense of fitness is his most serious flaw.

The Art Students' league exhibit opens today also, in the gallery next to that containing the Davey exhibit. It is a cheerful and cheering display of very worth while efforts. Two pictures by Frederick M. Grant and some plasters by Helen Lynch are deserving of praise.

Plan Gigantic Henderson Memorial Meeting.

Dr. Charles R. Henderson's memory will be honored Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in a great community memorial at the Auditorium theater.

Nearly 18,000 invitations have been distributed and the elevated railways will place circulars in all of its loop stations telling of the meeting. Numerous organizations, journals, and other agencies are taking part in the meeting.

Gov. Dunne will come to Chicago from Springfield to preside. An organ recital by Arthur Constance Lunn will be given from 2:45 to 3 o'clock.

Col. William Nathan MacChesney is chairman of the executive committee in charge of the memorial and he will introduce Gov. Dunne. The other members of the committee are the Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan, Miss Harriet Vittum, the Rev. Myron E. Adams, Dr. Shailer Mathews, W. C. Shurtleff, Julius Rosenwald, George W. Perkins, Eugene T. Lies, and Dr. Graham Taylor.

The program will include addresses by Dr. Mathews, who will speak on the religious side of Dr. Henderson's life; Miss Jane Addams, whose speech will be "Dr. Henderson as a Social Worker"; George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota, whose subject will be "Dr. Henderson as an Educator and Teacher"; Dr. Emil G. Hirsch on "Dr. Henderson, the Man," and Dr. Graham Taylor on "Dr. Henderson, the Citizen."

Methodists to Hold Jubilee.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

The golden jubilee will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, which will take place in October, 1920. The luncheon will inaugurate a five years' campaign for increase in the membership and gifts of the society.

Miss Sui Wang, a Chinese young woman who took her degree of master of arts at Northwestern university last June, will speak on "New Education for Girls in China."

Miss Wang will start for Chinkiang, China, tomorrow. She will be, it is said, the first Chinese woman who will be put in complete charge of a girls' school in the celestial empire.

"The Woman's Foreign Missionary society has raised $15,125,685 in the forty-five years of its history, or an average of $333,126 a year," said Mrs. E. R. Graham of Evanston, president of the Northwestern branch.

"Last year the contributions of the society were $1,006,229. The society maintains 471 missionaries, 2,200 schools, 21 hospitals, 2,951 native helpers, and 2,245 native Bible women."

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Society and Entertainments

Voting Adds to League's Receipts.

BY CINDERELLA.

WHEN Allen Haines was auctioneering for votes on the stage at the Junior league's "Merry Whirl" on Tuesday night he goaded the Chicago men on to loosening up their purse strings by saying that at a similar vote contest in Seattle the Junion league had taken in $18,000.

But he neglected to mention that the daughters of three railroad presidents had each her special dance, and when it came to voting which was the prettiest none of the papas was willing to lie down and be quiet for a mere matter of five or six thousand dollars.

However, the bidding was quite snappy until some man's voice (was it James Thorne's?) put a thousand votes on the gavotte, that lovely group of tall, slender beauties in ruffled pink tulle with Victorian bonnets of pink and vivid blue, which included Mrs. James Thorne, Mrs. Ray Atherton, Mrs. Laurence Armour, Miss Cudahy, and Messrs. Niblack, John Wentworth, Osborne, and Monroe Robinson, in olive green redingotes and wide fawn colored trousers.

This put the lid on voting till Mrs. Walker rose up and placed another thousand votes on "l'Enfant Revant," that exquisite dance pantomime of Miss Helen Pauling in a garden, swathed in rainbow chiffons, dreaming among the roses or flitting like a humming bird in a wild dance with Frank Parker.

A man in a box (it seemed to be Ray Atherton) kept up a great hubbub by shouting for fifty votes on what he called "The Musical Moment" instead of "Moment Musical," then fifty more on what he persistently called "The Dreaming Child" instead of "l'Enfant Revant" of the program. It quite detrained George Seaverns Jr. and Allen Haines, who were taking votes in French and not expecting plain English.

Ray Atherton, the man so persistently English, came here to live after a long residence in Paris.

In the same party were Mr. and Mrs. John A. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Linn, and Miss Maggie Teyte.

The Junior league has worked like a band of beavers for five weeks at the Merry Whirl. The betting among the masculine dancers is that $15,000 will be the net earnings.

Fifteen hundred came from the first vote contest and huge receipts are expected from the Blackstone supper dance, where a tremendous crowd at $3 a head congregated and filled not only the ballroom, the balcony, and the upper hall but the restaurant as well.

However hard the Junior leaguers have worked, they have had in return a course of fancy dancing lessons from the delightful Miss Stewart, a great deal of fun rehearsing and going back and forth, lunching and supping, and in fine audiences.

Three former presidents of the league, Mrs. Howard Linn, Miss Margaret Conover, and Mrs. James Field, were interested onlookers the first night and resting on their laurels. Now the great and vital question with the Junion league is, "Next Year What?"

Many people who had taken tickets and boxes for the Junior league are still away. Mr. and Mrs. Hall McCormick are in Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Willing are at Lakewood for a few days, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Crane are east, as are Mrs. James B. Waller, Mrs. Henry Dibblee, Mrs. Chalmers, Mrs. Joseph Bowen, Mrs. Chauncey Blair, and Mrs. William Beale.

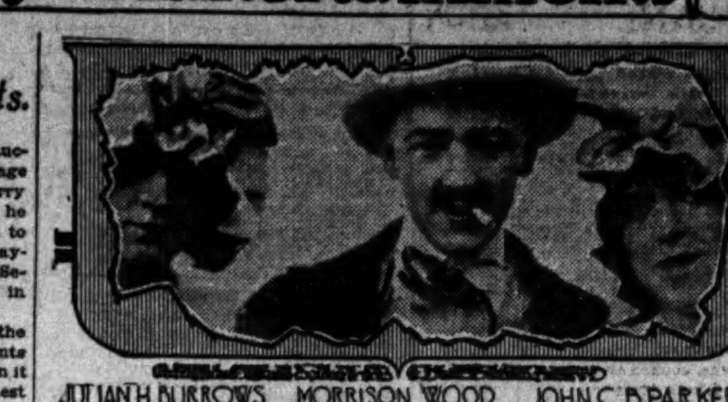

In other directions are Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Henry Blair, Mrs. William R. Linn, Mrs. Charles L. Hutchinson, and Mrs. John J. Borland.

Redheffer, on Tuesday evening at the Congress hotel. Miss Caroline Stinsom Burne of Huntington, N. Y., was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Talbot of Boston and Miss Estelle Valentine of Cold Harbor Springs, N. Y. Miss Marie Dorsey will be maid of honor, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Maureen Love and Miss Mary Ruth Hodge. Frank Astor of Elgin, W. T. Hodge, and Stewart Dorsey will be the men attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Bender of 2640 Lake View avenue, announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Sylvia Louise, to Milton S. Guggenheim on April 14 at the Blackstone.

FRANZ VON PAUSINGER, the Austrian painter, is dead, according to a dispatch received at Amsterdam from Salzburg.

Attacks Mrs. Story of D. A. R.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—Mrs. Anna Scott Block of Chicago has opened hostilities against Mrs. William Cummings Story, president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, with a statement accusing Mrs. Story of failing to assist in the effort to raise the debt on Continental hall.

Mrs. Block's statement, which has just been received in Washington, accuses Mrs. Story of not encouraging patronage of the certificate plan for wiping out the indebtedness. She says Mrs. Story refrained from issuing to members a letter of approval.

In answer, Mrs. Story asserts that Mrs. Block has permitted a "political insignificance" to creep into the operations of the committee on liquidation, of which she is chairman, and intimates that Mrs. Block is a candidate for treasurer general on the anti-Story ticket. This Mrs. Block denies. She asserts her whole purpose is to raise the debt on the D. A. R. hall here, as her committee has that in charge.

UNITED STATES TO HAVE SURPLUS OF 1915 WHEAT

Acreage and Conditions Indicate 650,000,000 Bushels, Says the Government.

The United States will have a big surplus of wheat again the coming year to ship abroad if the present conditions are maintained until harvest. The government report issued yesterday showed an April 1 condition of 88.8, or a little higher condition than last December, on an acreage sown of 41,263,000 acres, indicating a crop estimated from 619,000,000 to 697,000,000 bu.

A year ago the government estimated a yield of 609,000,000 bu winter wheat, but raised the estimate each month until harvest, and the final crop figures were 684,000,000 bu. While the condition is much lower than a year ago, when it was 95.6, the acreage sown is 41,263,000 acres, against 35,387,000 acres harvested in 1914, and the percentage of the crop abandoned is expected to be extremely small.

Fair Average Crop.

The condition of the crop is a fair average one, and with ordinary weather from now until harvest a big crop is assured. In addition to the tremendous increase in winter wheat acreage, it is expected there will be a large gain in spring wheat area. A year ago, while the winter wheat crop was the largest on record, the spring wheat yield was deficient in many sections.

In estimating the yield of winter wheat on the present condition the government uses a low par or yield per acre in April, about seventeen bu per acre. At harvest the par used is nineteen bu per acre. On the basis of the later figure the crop indicated is 697,000,000 bu.

Kansas again has the leading position, the crop being indicated at 149,876,000 bu. Nebraska has a promise for 72,000,000 bu; Oklahoma, 47,000,000 bu; Illinois, 51,000,000 bu; and Indiana, 49,000,000 bu. There has been a big increase in acreage in soft wheat states east of the Mississippi, due to the promise of high prices.

Yield by States.

Wheat Crop Suffered.

The Washington report said:

"In a general way the wheat crop suffered more than the average in the Atlantic coast states as a result of a cold, dry, windy March without adequate snow covering. In the central states east of the Mississippi river the crop declined slightly during the winter, but not more than usual. Reports of prevalence of Hessian fly are made from many places in this section, which gives some apprehension.

"Great improvement in the condition was made in the western part of the grain belt—namely, in Nebraska, Kansas, and Oklahoma—which caused a general average condition on April 1 slightly higher than on Dec. 1. Although the average of the last ten years on April 1 was 2.7 points lower than on Dec. 1, in the Pacific northwest large yields are anticipated."

Flat Value is $250,000.

The filing for record yesterday of the transfer disclosed the fact that the apartment house property which James F. Porter and mother, Julia F. Porter, conveyed in part payment for the fee and leasehold interest in the property at the southeast corner of State and Lake streets, was valued at $250,000, according to the stamps on the deed. They comprise the four story building on Prairie avenue, 198 feet south of Twenty-ninth street, with 125x178 feet of ground, east front, and the twenty apartment building at the northwest corner of Broadway and Edgecomb place, 124½x164 feet.

Frederick H. Bartlett & Co. purchased from the Seipp realty trustees a tract of twenty-seven and one-half acres adjoining the Portia Manor subdivision of Bartlett & Co. at La Grange.

Winthrop Avenue Sale.

Charles C. Higgins and Louis Thexton have sold to Schuyler C. Schwartz the six apartment building at 4711-13 Winthrop avenue, between Leland and Lawrence avenues, with 50x125 feet of ground, for a reported consideration of $20,000, subject to an incumbrance of $8,000.

Adopt Zander Resolution.

At the monthly meeting of the Chicago real estate board yesterday a resolution, submitted by Henry G. Zander, chairman of the legislative committee, was adopted approving the proposed excluding from the limitations of the Juul law for three years the interest and sinking fund. Mr. Zander said it was a temporary expedient, the hope being that within the three years indicated something will have been accomplished in a permanent way in revenue legislation.

"How we are to use our inland waterways" will be discussed by J. H. Ellis and W. A. Bertman at the weekly luncheon of the Chicago real estate board today. It will be illustrated by moving pictures.

REAPER DISSOLUTION SUIT ARGUED IN SUPREME COURT.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—[Special.]—Arguments were begun before the United States Supreme court today in the government's suit to dissolve the International Harvester company. They will conclude tomorrow.

Attorney John P. Wilson of Chicago, representing the Harvester company, entered a formal denial to every one of the government's charges, contending that the trial of the case in the District court failed to substantiate any of them. He asserted that the company was not organized to create a monopoly.

Even if the company had a monopoly, which Mr. Wilson refused to concede, it still would not be guilty of a violation of the Sherman law, he said, unless it was proved guilty of using its monopoly wrongfully.

FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS AGREE ON CLEARING PLAN.

Washington, D. C., April 7.—The federal reserve board tonight announced that it had reached a general understanding with representatives of the federal reserve banks for the creation of a gold fund in Washington for use in clearings and settling balances between these banks. The plan is expected to become effective about the middle of May.

When this fund is created and put in operation the last important step in setting up the clearing functions of the federal reserve system will have been taken. The federal reserve banks already are clearing for member banks in their own districts.

It was said tonight that no agreement had been reached on the amount of the gold fund. The reserve banks will be allowed to count the gold contributed to the fund as part of their reserves and will receive some interest on it through charges made for clearing checks. Transportation charges on gold shipments will be paid by banks requesting such shipments.

STEEL CORPORATION HEAD SEES INDUSTRY IMPROVING

Duluth, Minn., April 7.—John Reis, vice president of the United States Steel corporation, arrived in Duluth today, accompanied by G. C. Thorpe, vice president of the Indiana Steel corporation.

Mr. Reis came from Chicago, held a consultation in the offices of the Minnesota Steel company regarding the plans for completing the local corporation plant, and later visited the premises.

"The work on the Duluth plant will be resumed where it was left off," said Mr. Reis. "The depression came on us suddenly and before we were prepared to cope with the situation winter was here.

"There has been a gradual increase in business since the first of the year. The Steel corporation is running on a reasonably busy basis."

Mr. Reis said that orders from abroad and business originating in the United States have been of a larger and more steady volume during the last two months, but also declared that business was as yet far from normal—just "comfortable."

Reserve Bank Clearing Plan.

The federal reserve bank of Chicago issued yesterday to the member banks a plan for utilizing the federal reserve bank as a clearing house for checks drawn among the different members. The member banks are asked to have action taken by the several boards of directors by May 15, 1915.

In the beginning the clearing house function will be exercised only between banks in the district which mutually agree to the plan. Each member bank joining the system authorizes the federal reserve bank to charge immediately on receipt against its account, subject to payment by such member bank at its banking house, checks and drafts payable on presentation drawn on it, deposited by other member banks which have joined the collection system.

Chicago Railways Income 4s.

The directors of the Chicago Railways company yesterday declared the full 4 per cent interest on the $2,500,000 adjustment income bonds, payable in one installment on May 1, for the fiscal year ended Jan. 31, 1915.

Rock Island Minority Committee.

N. L. Amster, chairman of the Rock Island minority shareholders committee, has issued a circular in which he says:

"My committee is gratified to have been once more the instrument to force reform in Rock Island affairs, this time in the public announcement of the nominees for directors by the Sheldon committee, even though only a week before the annual meeting.

"It is, however, to be noted that the Sheldon committee nominees are closely identified either with the Wallace committee or the old directorate. Mr. Williams is president of Brooklyn Rapid Transit, the close connection of which with the Central Trust company, of which Mr. Wallace is president, is well known. Mr. Matheson is a director of the Continental Insurance company, of which Henry Evans of the Wallace committee is president. Mr. Hayden was a member of the Wallace committee, while Mr. Roosevelt is a director of the Chemical National bank.

Sheldon Nominees from Wall Street.

"In other words, all the nominees of the Sheldon committee have close Wall street affiliations, which in view of all that has transpired in Rock Island during the past year makes our committee believe that they are not the most desirable representatives of the minority shareholders on the board of directors. Moreover, it appears that Mr. Williams and Mr. Roosevelt have become shareholders of record only within the past week, for 110 and 100 shares, respectively. Mr. Hayden and Mr. Matheson are owners of record of 500 shares.

"On the contrary, the nominees of our committee have been interested as investors in Rock Island securities for a long time and are therefore the best representatives of the minority shareholders.

"We believe that when the meeting is held we shall represent between 150,000 and 200,000 shares, although with all the stock that has been put into the names of clerks during the past few days and the fact that there are three tickets in the field—the Sheldon, the management, and our committee—it will, of course, be difficult to prophesy just what the showdown will be when the proxies are actually counted at the meeting."

Brunswicke, Balke Collender.

Southern Pacific Annual.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Southern Pacific railroad company retiring directors were reelected with the exception of James N. Wallace, who was succeeded by Hugh Neill, secretary of the company.

The proposition calling for the purchase of the following companies was ratified: Coos Bay, Roseburg and Eastern Railroad Navigation, Corvallis and Eastern Pacific Railway and Navigation, Eugene and Eastern, Salem, Falls City and Western and Williamett and Pacific.

Biscuit Profits Fall.

Profits of the National Biscuit company are understood to be showing a falling off compared with the corresponding period last year. This is due in part to the increased cost of raw materials. The decline in National Biscuit common stock has followed knowledge of the decrease in profits.

BOOM HOLDS UP IN WALL STREET

BETHLEHEM STEEL OFF.

New York, April 7.—In its essential features today's stock market was largely a repetition of the last few days. Prices made further progress, though gains were mainly in the specialties which have dominated operations of the last fortnight. Trading was subject to frequent periods of dullness and total transactions were somewhat under recent averages.

Automobile shares broke into new high ground, with gains which ran as high as 7 points. Petroleum stocks, fertilizers, the smaller steel companies, and numerous other miscellaneous issues joined in this movement, which again bore traces of professional manipulation.

Declines in Specialties.

These advances were partly nullified by corresponding declines in various specialties, including Bethlehem Steel, General Electric, Cuban-American Sugar, and more subordinate issues. Rock Island and Missouri Pacific were active at advances, but leaders like Union Pacific, United States Steel, Reading, and Amalgamated rose and fell alternately. Total sales of stocks amounted to 524,900 shares.

Bonds were irregular, with some decided gains in Missouri Pacific 4s, Chicago and Eastern Illinois 6s, and Rock Island debentures. Total sales (par value) aggregated $2,734,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

London Exchange Lower.

Rates of exchange on London were lower on heavy offerings of bankers' bills by a leading institution, and continental exchange fell in proportionate degree, francs and marks easing perceptibly. Remittances on Rome were unchanged, despite the belief that a loan or credit to Italy is impending.

London was again a seller of our stocks in the home market and here, transcontinentals constituting the chief offerings. It is believed that these sales were made as a preliminary to another large British treasury loan.

Mercantile paper, 3¼. Sterling exchange, steadier; sixty day bills, 4.7665; for cables, 4.7985; for demand, 4.7950. Bar silver, 50⅛c. Mexican dollars, 38c. A Recommendation For Investors in Stocks

The Consumers Power Company (Michigan) controls water power and steam generating and electric properties supplying electricity for light and power to a number of prosperous and important communities in the Southern Peninsula of Michigan. Each year since its organization the Consumers Power Company has been able to increase substantially its earning capacity both gross and net. For the twelve months ended February 28, 1915, this Company had gross earnings of $3,443,389, an increase of 7.52% with a net gain of 27.50% and a surplus after all charges have been paid of $1,132,506, compared with $744,106 for the preceding twelve months—an increase of 52.20%. The duplication value of the property of the Consumers Power Company is materially in excess of all of its outstanding bonds and preferred stock. The Preferred Stock at its present price of 94 and dividend is, we believe, one of the most attractive investment stocks in the market.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE.

PEACE RUMORS WEAKEN WHEAT

Prices Show Declines; More Favorable Weather Also Considerable Factor.

OATS SALES INCREASE.

A government report that was generally given a bearish construction, indifferent cables, more peace talk from the other side, and the promise of rain over the greater part of this forecast district gave wheat a heavy tone yesterday. Recent buyers were on the selling side and the market reflected the quite free selling of long wheat for several days past. In the late trade there was a sharp drop in the May which unsettled the other months. Final prices were 1⅝@2c lower.

The government placed the condition of winter wheat at 88.8, or a trifle better than last December. On the acreage of 41,263,000 bu this condition indicated a crop of 619,000,000 bu, but local statisticians, using a par of 19 bu, figured out a crop of 697,000,000 bu. The government uses a lower par in April.

Peace Talk Affects Mart.

The final estimate last year was 685,000,000 bu, and the government estimate last April was 609,000,000 bu. Peace talk was encouraged by the reports of further Russian successes in the Carpathians, cable advices persistently claiming Austria would sue for peace. There was only indifferent buying support and local bears were encouraged in selling operations.

Liverpool spot cables were ½d off to 1d higher compared to last Saturday, and the fact that western Europe is now getting plenty of wheat is causing some hesitation in following the buying side. Cash sales here were 10,000 bu and the seaboard said 200,000 bu had been taken for export. Liverpool reported the probability of lighter Argentine shipments this week, with Indian offers extremely firm. Argentine and Manitoba offerings generally were firm.

Crop Reports Favorable.

The general tenor of crop reports was favorable. Clearances were heavy, 1,689,000 bu for two days. Primary receipts were 807,000 bu, against 813,000 bu a year ago, and northwest receipts were 296 cars, compared to 192 cars a year ago. Winnipeg had a big run, 893 cars, compared to 182 cars last year.

Minneapolis stocks decreased 540,000 bu for four days. Mills there were reported good buyers of the May. Duluth stocks increased 133,000 bu for three days. Selling of May wheat here was led by Chapin, Logan-Bryan, and Jackson Bros. Local traders were the principal buyers. Lowitz, Bartlett-Frazier, and Chapin were buyers of July early. General trade was of moderate proportions.

Corn Futures Are Weak.

Corn futures closed the day ½c lower. The weakness in wheat caused selling and there was indifferent support, while most of the local traders were on the bear side. Cash prices were unchanged to ½c lower, and there was a fair shipping demand. Receipts continue moderate. Shipping sales were 215,000 bu. At the southwestern markets there was a moderate demand. Clearances of corn were liberal at 880,000 bu.

Country sales generally are expected to be light until after spring work is out of the way. Cables were ½d off. Primary receipts were 785,000 bu, compared to 751,000 bu a year ago. Kidston and the local crowd sold corn. Liverpool corn stocks are said to be increasing and Plate offerings are liberal. A cargo of corn intended for shipment east was reported sold to be loaded back into store.

Prices for Oats Rally.

Lowest prices for oats were made right after the start, predictions for rains increasing the selling pressure, while there was an indifferent demand. Later there was good buying and prices rallied, closing comparatively strong. Resting prices were ⅛c off to ⅜c higher. Cash prices were not much changed.

Shipping sales here were 310,000 bu, and export sales were 1,000,000 bu. Clearances for the day were 682,000 bu. Primary receipts were 1,261,000 bu, compared to 751,000 bu a year ago. Local receipts were 290 cars and 163 cars were inspected yesterday. Armour, Knight-McDougal and Logan-Bryan were the leading buyers of oats futures.

Hog Products Are Easy.

Provisions were a little easier throughout the list, but prices were not materially changed. At the opening there was a little covering by shorts, especially in pork. Later the weakness in the grain list caused some selling, and there was but little aggressive buying.

Shipments of meats were heavy and there appears to be a fair volume of cash business. Hog receipts were 26,000, about as expected, with 25,000 the estimate for today. Western receipts were 87,300, compared to 66,000 a year abo.

Rye Active and Firm.

Rye met with a good demand at firm prices, No. 2 selling at $1.17 and No. 3 at $1.13. Part cars of No. 2 sold at $1.13 and sample grade at $1.12. Receipts, 11 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet at $4.50@6.25 for cash. Cloverseed was steady at $9.00@13.00 for cash.

Duluth flax closed 3@4c lower, with cash on track $1.91; May, $1.92; July, $1.95; and September, $1.96. Receipts, 22 cars. Minneapolis was 3½c lower at $1.86½@1.90. Receipts were 20 cars. Winnipeg closed 1⅜@2⅜c lower, with May, $1.73¾; July, $1.78½; and October, $1.80⅝. Receipts, 50 cars.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

The continued successes of the Russian forces reported in the Carpathians caused a revival of peace rumors on the board of trade. While the rumors were of the same kind that have been current a number of times, the wheat market appeared to be overbought and there has been a lot of long wheat sold out the last few days, and many traders were of the opinion last night the buying demand would be slow until prices had a sharp recession. The commission houses that were the big buyers of July under $1.20 a few days are credited with having sold on the recent bulges. The favorable crop reports received also checked the buying of the deferred months, and the May also showed more weakness than for some time, losing 2c for the day on scattered selling of long wheat.

"It has been proven by statistics that no one country has purchased thus far this season anywhere near their requirements," said Broomhall. "Consumption has been on a very large scale and the elimination of Russia as a shipper has been severely felt in the sharp advance in prices and the entire population of Europe is dependent upon foreign supplies until next harvest. From trade statistics I fail to find that Germany has received any wheat or flour from Italy excepting perhaps the first few weeks of August. Argentine shipments are disappointing and India's quota remains conjectural. Italy consumes 4,800,000 bu wheat weekly normally.

There was an excellent trade in oats for export yesterday and sales were close to 1,000,000 bu in all positions. The seaboard reported good sales on the early dip in prices, but the advance later was said to have shut off business. Sales reported were said to be largely of oats in private houses and that shipments would not make much change in the visible. The domestic inquiry was better, according to some shippers.

Cash prices for wheat here were about steady. The demand was indifferent and there was but little business. Country sales continue light. Corn was steady to ½c lower and oats were about unchanged. Shipping sales were 10,000 bu wheat, 215,000 bu corn, and 310,000 bu oats. Export sales were 200,000 bu wheat and about 1,000,000 bu oats.

Le Count wired Barrell from Wellington, Kas.: "Wheat shows up better coming south. Some fields in this locality show nearly average growth, as the ground is well covered. The plant is healthy and strong and progress will be rapid during the next two or three weeks. Soil well soaked and in splendid condition. Threatening rain."

Ware-Leland had reports from 435 points in Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas, Indiana, and Oklahoma replying to an inquiry in regard to farm reserves of wheat, and the summary of the reports indicates 40,900,000 bu back on the farms, against 75,800,000 bu in the same states March 1 and 61,400,000 bu a year ago.

Liberal supplies of Manchurian corns, beans, and other feedstuffs are being imported on the Pacific coast, according to letters to Somers-Jones. Most of the grain is being handled by tramp steamers, which have been cleaned up in good shape and the supplies are coming in good condition. In California there have been good rains and the crop outlook is favorable, although the barley acreage probably will not be so large as last year.

Considerable rain was shown on the map extending from the southwest quite generally over the west into the southwest. East of the Mississippi there were only a few light showers reported, but the forecast indicated precipitation over greater part of this forecast district.

John Inglis wired Logan-Bryan from Terre Haute, Ind.: "The recent cool weather has retarded growth. Stand about perfect of wheat. No winter killing. Oats seeding is finished and seed bed is good. Rain is needed. Not much grain is moving.

The Michigan April wheat condition was placed at 86, according to King of Toledo. Last December condition was 94. Last April condition was 91. Majority of correspondence claimed some damage during March.

Kansas City advices to W. P. Anderson reported a good deal of corn back in Nebraska and that it was thought the grain would move freely. Cash demand for corn there was reported slow.

Special brands of spring wheat flour were quoted $8.00 yesterday, an advance of 20c.

Less than a quarter of the cattle supply at Chicago yesterday was available for eastern shipping purposes and outsiders had to pay firm prices for desirable steers. Packers, however, filled their orders at barely steady prices and the average for the day showed little improvement. Yearling steers topped the market at $8.90, while the bulk of the good to choice steers sold at $7.25@8.15. Cows and heifers were steady to a shade better for fat offerings, while bulls sold 10@15c higher and calves held steady.

The hog market opened weak and uncertain, but quickly developed strength, and the average price for the day showed a slight gain. Receipts were posted at 23,000 head, the best of which sold at $6.92½, with the bulk at $6.80@6.90. Shippers were credited with purchases of only 500 head, while packers took 22,400 head, with Armour leading the buying.

Live muttons found a ready outlet at the best prices of the season, and lambs topped at $10.40 for woolskins and $8.65 for clippers, selling within a few cents of the highest prices on record. Shorn western yearlings at $7.75 established a new top for the season for that class.

American Locomotive.

E. N. W., Gary, Ind.—The American Locomotive company has outstanding $25,000,000 preferred stock, on which 7 per cent dividends have been paid to date, and $25,000,000 common, on which a total of 11¼ per cent was paid in 1906, 1907, and 1908. There were $2,225,000 bonds of constituent companies and $5,474,000 gold notes of the main company at the time of the last annual report, June 30. The balance sheet showed $11,535,658 profit and loss surplus, beside about $1,000,000 depreciation reserve and betterment fund. The gross earnings had fallen off severely owing to the fact that railroads were not buying locomotives, but interest and preferred dividend were earned and $326,127 was added to surplus. Since June 30 it is said that the company has been earning little more than operating expenses. No reports are issued as to what percentage of plants is in operation. The price of the stock declined severely recently because of the possibility that dividends would be discontinued. In the last few days it has recovered on rumors of orders for locomotives. The preferred stock sold up to 122 in 1909 and did not go below par till 1913. It sold within a few points of par all last year. The common touched 78½ in 1906 and then slowly declined.

Allis-Chalmers.

H. J. C.—The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company makes engines, pumps, flour mill and sugar machinery, electrical apparatus, and machines of various kinds. The present company was formed in 1913 to take over the business of the Allis-Chalmers company, which was sold at foreclosure. It has authorized and outstanding $26,000,000 of common stock and $16,500,000 of preferred. The latter stock was entitled to cumulative dividends of 5 per cent for the two years from Jan. 1, 1913, to Jan. 1, 1915. It is now entitled to 6 per cent, and beginning Jan. 1, 1917, will be entitled to 7 per cent. No dividends have been paid. The only bonds are $936,000, secured by mortgage on the plant of the Bullock Electric Manufacturing company, which the Allis company bought a year ago. These bonds were given at 80 in exchange for $1,170,000 preferred stock of the Bullock company. The eight and one-half months of operation of the Allis company in 1913 showed total sales $11,127,621, and net profit after depreciation $755,125, or 4⅝ per cent on preferred stock. In 1914 gross sales were $10,323,149, but instead of an operating profit there was a deficit of $78,971. The balance sheet for 1914 is not available.

Brief Answers.

J. G.—The stock of an unorganized life insurance company is not an investment for savings. If the people back of such a project are capable and experienced insurance men the company is likely to be a success, but dividends may not be earned for years. If the projectors are promoters rather than insurance men, ultimate failure is to be expected.

J. M. S.—In the answer to you about buying New York Central "rights" at ⅛, the cost of the debentures figures out at 100.3⅛, instead of 103⅛. They would be, therefore, on practically a 6 per cent basis, instead of 5⅝.

W. E. L.—The L. & M. Rubber company send advertising matter, but nothing about its finances.

BOSTON STOCK QUOTATIONS.

BOSTON, Mass., April 7.—[Special.]—The market was irregular in today's early trading, but the tone became strong after noon and trading was on a fairly heavy scale. In the mining department Butte and Superior was a prominent feature, but the price eased off on rather free selling. Copper Range, on the other hand, was well bought throughout and made a gain of well over a point. Algomah, Amalgamated, Inspiration, Isle Royale, Smelting common, Utah Copper, Trinity, St. Marys, Osceola, Ray and North Lake were well taken at higher levels. Fruit, Swift, Boston and Maine and Chemical common made gains, the last named issue being particularly strong. Edison was weak on scattered selling. Call money, 3 per cent; time loans, short dates, 3¼@4 per cent; time loans, six months, 3½@4 per cent; time loans, year, 4¼@4½ per cent.

OPPORTUNITY.

THE VULCAN METALS CO., INC., of New York is now ready to contract with reliable and financially responsible parties for the exclusive selling agency in this territory for the famous "HYDRA" VACUUM CLEANER. Applications considered for state, county, or city rights, also for remaining middle and western states not yet under contract. The "HYDRA" has created a distinct sensation wherever demonstrated. It is the only vacuum cleaner in the world operated by simply attaching to a water faucet. It is highly efficient, light, portable, and strictly sanitary. It gives universal satisfaction, is absolutely guaranteed, and sells on sight at demonstration. Every home is your customer. The "HYDRA" is the only machine on the market without a moving part in it, and retails at the remarkably low figure of $16.50. If you are looking for a staple enterprise, which pays big returns and are capable of handling a strictly high class proposition we can interest you. Capital of from $1,000 to $10,000 required for stock carried, according to amount of territory allotted under contract.
